Improved Grounds, Buildings Add Glamour to County Fair

Pickaway County's Fair is scheduled for a rousing opening Monday for what is anticipated to be one of the most interesting shows on record.

A gay festival spirit is scheduled to reign from opening day until the final closing on Saturday night. Stacked in between will be plenty of entertainment and sights worth seeing.

The Fair gates will swing open at 6 p. m. the first day. From then on it will be activity morning, noon and night.

Members of the Pickaway County Agricultural Society and Fair Manager William Cook are busy putting final touches on an interesting card of programs featured this year.

AN IMPROVED Fairgrounds will greet spectators. Several building additions have been completed and new coats of paint applied. The midway area also has taken on a new look with the addition of blacktop in various places.

Surface treatment has been completed elsewhere in an effort to keep down dust and prevent muddy conditions in case of rain.

Monday's schedule calls for opening ceremonies and flag raising by local Boy Scouts at 6 p. m. This will be followed by a Pony Pull in front of the Grandstand and a Junior Fair Livestock judging contest in the Show Arena, both at 8. Horseshoe pitching qualifying will be held each evening from 6 to 10, with championship throwing set to start at 6 p. m. on Saturday.

The Fair atmosphere will gain steam on Tuesday when the gates open at 8 a. m. At 9 a. m. judging of various entries and exhibits will get under way, followed by the popular Tractor Pull at 10.

More judging will continue in the afternoon. Also in the afternoon spotlight will be the first of two days of harness racing. Post time is set for 4 p. m. on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Plenty of interest will be concentrated Tuesday night in front of the Grandstand when the annual Talent and King and Queen contests are staged. These combined events start at 8.

THE PROGRAM rolls into its third day on Wednesday with more judging, continuation of the Tractor Pull and other events on the morning schedule. A bicycle will be given away at 5 p. m. and demonstration contests are set for 7:30 p. m.

An added Wednesday attraction will be a performance by the Rotoff All-Girl Thrill Show in front of the Grandstand, starting at 8 p. m.

Another busy day is in store Thursday with a 4-H Club Horse and Pony show at 8:30 a. m. and additional livestock and home economics judging at 9. Flower show judging will start at 12:30 p. m. and an Old-Fashioned Style show (Continued on Page 2)

Banker's Death Attributed to Natural Cause

Funeral Services Set At 2:30 Saturday for Savings Bank Official

A coroner's report completed late yesterday disclosed that the death of John C. Van Pelt, prominent Circleville bank executive, was by natural causes.

The coroner's report, compiled by Dr. Ray Carroll, listed death by natural causes, possibly due to a heart condition. An autopsy was performed yesterday in Columbus after Mr. Van Pelt's body was found by his wife Helen, at about 10:30 a. m. in the family garage at 135 Reber Ave.

A loaded 22 caliber pistol found near the body had not been fired. The gun was sent to the London Bureau of Criminal Investigation for a detailed check. Officials there said it contained only lint, a sound indication that a cartridge had not been exploded in the chamber.

The autopsy also disclosed no puncture wounds of the body. Nor was there any trace of carbon monoxide poisoning. The ignition of the Van Pelt car had been found in the on position and there were indications the engine had been running earlier.

POLICE surmised the pistol apparently had been pushed to the floor when Mr. Van Pelt fell. A slight mark on the body also was attributed to the fall.

Mr. Van Pelt, executive vice president and cashier at the Savings Bank since 1950, had been working on a limited schedule following a recent illness. A usual early riser, he apparently had been working in the garage prior to his death. A favorite hobby was working with high fidelity and stereophonic sound equipment.

The bank official was born Jan. 19, 1898, in Martins Ferry, a son of Addison and Clara Hampton Van Pelt. He was a veteran of World War I and was a member of the Quaker Faith.

He was married to Helen Moss Van Pelt on April 21, 1920, at Cambridge. He also is survived by one son, Stuart, Lawrenceburg, Ind., two grandchildren and one sister, Mrs. George S. Otte, Wheeling, W. Va.

Services will be 2:30 p. m. Saturday in the Defenbaugh Funeral Home, with the Rev. Henry Walters officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers will be T. M. Glick, Richard Simkins, George Foreman, D. D. Dowden and M. E. Noggle. Active pallbearers will be Walter Garner, David Garrett, George Young, Donald Mason, Harry Clifton Jr. and Marvin Steely.

Friends may call at the funeral home anytime.

Estes 'Loot' Hinted Buried

3 1/2 Million Fund Claimed Missing

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Speculation that Billie Sol Estes hid a fortune in a pauper's grave was given in testimony at a court of inquiry Thursday.

One of three men indicted with Estes on fraud and theft charges involving millions of dollars volunteered the buried treasure suggestion at a hearing which a New York chemical firm, facing a civil antitrust suit, tried to block.

Harold E. Orr, 31, president of Superior Manufacturing Co., said about $3 1/2 million received by enterprises of Estes, the bankrupt West Texas financier, has disappeared.

Discussing a Pecos, Tex., mortuary owned by Estes, Orr testified he knew of only one funeral handled by it during the period the money vanished—a charity case.

"What was the place used for?" Dist. Atty. Frank Baughman asked.

"It is just my personal assumption," Orr said, "but I think it was so he could store all that loot in some poor old boy's grave."

Orr also testified:

1. Worthless notes and sales contract through which Superior Manufacturing obtained the money funneled $18 million to Estes. Coleman T. McSpadden, 45, of Lubbock, majority stockholder in the firm, got $2 million in the same manner.

2. Representatives of several finance firms were aware that thousands of fertilizer tanks on which they loaned the money didn't exist.

3. Estes conferred on numerous occasions with representatives of Commercial Solvents Corp., New York supplier of anhydrous ammonia fertilizer which Estes distributed at drastically cut prices in an effort to corner the West Texas market.

4. More than one threat has been made on Orr's life since he gave FBI agents information about Estes' operations in March. He gave no details.

5. Fictitious collateral supported the notes through which Orr, McSpadden and three other men raised $380,000 to buy Superior Manufacturing Co. on April 27, 1960—the date on which other dealings in worthless securities started. Robert E. Clements of Amarillo, who sold the tank-building firm, was aware of some of these dealings.

Burns Fatal To 6-Year-Old

Six-year-old Betsy Sue Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Wallace, 367 Town St., died today at Children's Hospital, Columbus, of burns received July 5.

The youth had been a patient in the Columbus Hospital since July 5 when she received severe body wounds in an accident that resulted from her playing with matches.

She was born December 5, 1955, in Circleville, the daughter of Roscoe and Pearl Hancher Wallace, who survive.

Other survivors are two half-brothers, Charles and John, both of the home; three half-sisters, Mrs. Mary Joe Miller, Columbus; Mrs. Elizabeth Tomlinson, Route 2, and Frances Wallace, of the home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hancher, 209 W. High St.; and great-grandmother, Mrs. Blanche Hancher, Greenwich, O.

Arrangements are being completed by the Defenbaugh Funeral Home.

Locher Becomes Mayor

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ralph S. Locher, law director of Cleveland since 1953, became mayor of Ohio's biggest city today, succeeding Anthony Celebrezze, new secretary of health, education and welfare in Washington.

Local ONG Unit Headed for Camp

Company I of the 166th Infantry, the Circleville unit of the Ohio National Guard, will be among the 8,000 members of the Ohio's 37th Infantry Division who will hit the road tomorrow for their third consecutive two-week summer field training session at Camp Grayling, Mich. — 250 miles north of Toledo.

Sergeant Chet Iery of the local unit, announced that the advance detail from Circleville had left Wednesday. The main unit plans to move out between 7 and 8:30 a. m. tomorrow.

The Buckeye national guardsmen have been holding their annual active duty training periods at the huge Michigan military reservation since 1960.

Following standard procedure, the entire division, with units in 67 communities around the state, will make the move to camp in military vehicles—Most of them in convoys. No Ohioans are allowed to drive civilian automobiles to camp.

The convoys, which are broken into small sections of 20 to 25 vehicles each, will use three main routes north.

Units from Western Ohio will follow U.S. 127 and then continue up through Michigan on the western side of the state. Central Ohio units of the 37th go through Marysville, Kenton, Findlay and Bowling Green, proceeding up the eastern side of Michigan. Eastern Ohio units will travel on the Ohio Turnpike and then go north on U.S. 27.

All of the units will make rest stops at county fairgrounds in Montpelier, Ottokree or Maumee.

This year's training will center around the company-sized unit. Last year the emphasis was on the platoon and in 1960 on the squad.

Because of Camp Grayling's size—more than 136,000 acres—the 37th again will fire every weapon it has at its disposal except the Honest John rocket. The rocket battalion, however, will fire that weapon later in the summer.

The first week's activities will center around firing weapons with live ammunition. During the second week, infantrymen and tanks will combine for the company-sized maneuvers. Here, however, blank ammunition will be used for safety reasons.

The 37th Division, which recently celebrated its 45th anniversary, is commanded by Maj. Gen. Loren G. Windom, Ohio's adjutant general.

New Approach To Reds Hinted

Scientific Detection Stepup Believed Key

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today the temporary recall of the U.S. representative at the Geneva disarmament conference to consult on new scientific data on detecting atomic tests.

The announcement followed a 1 1/2-hour meeting of President Kennedy with top disarmament advisers at which, authoritative sources said, the President reached no final decision on whether to ease U.S. terms for an atomic test ban treaty.

But indications were that the U.S. policymakers were preparing to change the U.S. stand by scaling down the anticheating safeguards it has been demanding for any nuclear test ban agreement with the Soviets.

The White House statement said:

"Nuclear test ban deliberations: The President has reviewed the new technical findings on test detection with his principal advisers.

"He has asked for certain supplemental assessments.

"In addition, Ambassador (Arthur H.) Dean (chief U.S. negotiator in Geneva disarmament talks) is returning from Geneva for consultation in the early part of next week and will return to Geneva by the end of the week.

"It is expected he will return to Geneva prepared to discuss the meaning of the new data and their significance for our continuing attempt to bring about a cessation of nuclear testing."

It is understood Dean is to return to Washington by Monday if possible.

Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said that, at the White House session today, attended by the heads of the principal federal agencies interested or their representatives, there was "no substantial disagreement" voiced.

According to some published accounts, some federal officials favored relaxing the previous U.S. demand for control posts—atomic explosion listening stations—inside Russia, while others were against this.

Once Around Roundtown

THE HARRY K. Armstrongs, New Holland, back from a two-month auto trip through the West, encountered few of the complaints frequently associated with World's Fairs.

They found that the exposition at Seattle, designed not to recount accomplishments but search out promises of the future, offers plenty of motel and hotel accommodations at reasonable prices. This includes adequate parking near the Fair area.

Taking a peek at agriculture along the way, the Armstrongs found the vast farmlands of the Midwest green after a b u n d a n t rain, although thousands of acres of hay had been ruined by moisture. They reported Hereford and Angus calves as looking particularly good.

YE OLDE PHOTO Album, a new weekly series, begins with today's edition of The Herald. The series is old photographs belonging to Paul Betz, Route 4, a pioneer photographer in the Pickaway County area.

Subject matter of the pictures will vary from week to week. However, they will all be of local interest. Some of the pictures date back to 1900.

X15 Pilot Tests Manual Controls

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An X15 rocket plane thundered upward to 100,000 feet and began a series of descent-braking roller coaster dips with its electronic controls deliberately crippled. The purpose: To see whether man can bring a ship back from space by himself.

"I had a couple of pretty busy minutes," said the space agency pilot, Neil Armstrong, after the flight Thursday. "I was tempted a couple of times to switch the yaw damper back on, but that would have defeated our purpose."

Armstrong intentionally turned off the yaw damper, a device that automatically corrects the craft's direction when it veers to left or right, as he reached the top of his 3,954-mile-an-hour climb.

Master Plan Questionnaire Postponed; More Study Due

A questionnaire pertaining to a workable master plan for Circleville and Pickaway County will be postponed until more knowledge on such a project can be obtained.

This was the consensus of a group of Chamber of Commerce directors and city and county officials who met last night for a planning study. Present for the session, conducted at the Chamber of Commerce office on E. Main St. were Mayor Richard Penn, Commissioners Charles Morris and Clyde Michel, chambermen Robert Brehmer Jr., R. C. Palm, Howard Smith, Nat Lefko, Paul Smallwood and Mrs. E. R. Bennett, chamber secretary.

Mayor Penn urged that more study be given before outlining a questionnaire on planning for this community. He indicated a more concentrated effort should be made on such a complicated project. His reference was to the tools and means which make master planning work.

The Mayor also raised the point: Does the city-county community really want to do something in the way of planning? And will it be worthwhile and of use to the general public?

HE URGED a patient and persistent attitude in learning the many necessary steps relevant to an acceptable master plan. An earlier Chamber project had proposed the sending of questionnaires to its membership in an effort to obtain opinions on a planning program for the city and the county.

Although a general questionnaire was ruled out for the time being,

Rural Campaigning Has Real Hazards

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—O. A. Wilson can attest that campaigning in a rural Illinois county has its hazards.

Wilson, a Democrat running for re-election as Jersey county superintendent of schools, said Thursday he has been bitten by three gophers and chased by a turkey gobbler in his door-to-door campaign.

But, he said, the attacks seem to be non-partisan. Two of the dogs were owned by Democrats and one by a Republican.

Wilson didn't learn the party affiliation of the gobbler's owner. "I didn't stick around long enough to find out," he said. "You have to be chased by one to understand."

X15 Pilot Tests Manual Controls

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An X15 rocket plane thundered upward to 100,000 feet and began a series of descent-braking roller coaster dips with its electronic controls deliberately crippled. The purpose: To see whether man can bring a ship back from space by himself.

"I had a couple of pretty busy minutes," said the space agency pilot, Neil Armstrong, after the flight Thursday. "I was tempted a couple of times to switch the yaw damper back on, but that would have defeated our purpose."

Armstrong intentionally turned off the yaw damper, a device that automatically corrects the craft's direction when it veers to left or right, as he reached the top of his 3,954-mile-an-hour climb.

Other Woman in GOP Chief's Life To Keep Their 2 Sons

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Raising her two young sons is the primary concern of Lillian (Linda) Renfrew Cobb, the other woman in the double life of North Carolina Republican Chairman William E. Cobb.

"I am going to keep my children regardless of the circumstances, sink or swim," she said Thursday. "It is inevitable that there will be a change, but no plans have been made at present."

The fireworks which Linda fully expected exploded Wednesday night when Cobb admitted to newsmen he was living with her at Roanoke, Va., and with his wife and adopted son at Morganton, N.C.

Linda, a pretty blonde divorcee of 33, said she lived a "quiet and normal life" in Roanoke. Two sons, aged 20 months and two months, were born to her and Cobb here.

Tension crept into the home recently when Time magazine published a story of young Republican leaders in the South. Included was a picture of Cobb.

She and Cobb, 40, an ex-Marine pilot who coupled his political activities with a lucrative lumber business, became concerned that his true identity would be revealed as a result of the picture.

Linda would discuss the situation only with reporters from the Raleigh News & Observer. She formerly lived and worked in Raleigh.

Linda said she moved to Roanoke in August, 1960, and has lived there ever since as a housewife, mother and as Mrs. W. Edward Cobb.

She said Cobb visited the Roanoke home, in a fashionable neighborhood, once or twice a week.

She was born in North Carolina and attended East Carolina College at Greenville for two years. She then became an airline stewardess. In February of 1951 she was married to William Marvin Parker of Raleigh. They were divorced in 1959.

Cobb has said he plans to remain in Morganton and attend to his lumber business. His wife of 19 years is reported planning to stand by him.

Other questions up for decisions were how much to reduce the proposed number for inspections which would be made at the source of an unidentified earth shock in Soviet territory, and how much to cut back the number of control posts proposed.

The problem of on-site inspections arises from the fact that, even with the best scientific instrument presently available, not all earth shock can be identified as to origin—whether caused by a nuclear explosion or by an earthquake.

The Western powers recently called for 19 control posts on Soviet territory to be manned permanently by combined staffs of Soviet, Western and neutral personnel. Consideration has been given to reducing the number of posts by 50 per cent or more.

New Approach

tem that would intrude into Russian territory.

Informants said that the majority opinion in a meeting Thursday of policymakers at the State Department was against dropping the control post requirement at this time, although some presidential advisers reportedly favored such action.

It was also reported that the President's advisers agreed that inspection arrangements at this stage should include both the guaranteed right of on-site inspections in various parts of the Soviet Union where secret atomic tests might be held and internationally manned control posts on Soviet territory.

The administration's obvious hope—however slender it may be—is that the new U.S. safeguard proposals, to be made shortly at the disarmament conference at Geneva, will interest the Soviet government in entering into serious negotiations once again for a ban on the testing of nuclear weapons.

But, since such a development is regarded as highly unlikely at the present stage of the arms race, the alternative aim is to demonstrate this country's interest in obtaining a test ban, even at the cost of what would appear to be new concessions to Soviet opposition to inspection.

Wide differences of opinion within the administration were reported on just how far the United States should go in its new proposals. Some members of Kennedy's White House staff were said to favor eliminating the demand for internationally staffed control posts on Soviet territory and to rely instead on more distant scientific installations to detect any sneak atomic explosions once the ban was in effect.

Other questions up for decisions were how much to reduce the proposed number for inspections which would be made at the source of an unidentified earth shock in Soviet territory, and how much to cut back the number of control posts proposed.

The problem of on-site inspections arises from the fact that, even with the best scientific instrument presently available, not all earth shock can be identified as to origin—whether caused by a nuclear explosion or by an earthquake.

More Varied Education Said Needed

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—The need for a more varied type of educational opportunity in Ohio was stressed here Thursday by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

"It will more than pay for itself in terms of producing a sounder, better ordered and better understood, tolerant existence for all of our citizens," he said. "The development of sound citizens who are learned as well as knowledgeable will help eradicate areas which create many problems for us today."

Th governor spoke at the Ashland County Fair, winding up a one-day tour of Central Ohio in his campaign for re-election.

"We cannot assume that the day for the improvement of the individual through educational means will ever be measured by his years," DiSalle said. "We must not only think of elementary, secondary and college training, but we must envision a system of education that encompasses both formal and informal approaches."

Stating that the educational system must be keyed to the needs of the students, the governor added:

"A student is our most important asset and his training will determine the quality of civilization which we will enjoy in the future."

He said each student must be given the opportunity to develop "to his full intellectual capacity without skipping in the area inhabited by our underprivileged."

After visiting his mother in a Toledo hospital, DiSalle made stops at Coshocton, Millersburg and Mount Vernon before coming here.

Talent Agents in Hollywood Scramble To Pick Up Stars

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"It's the greatest scramble for properties since the Oklahoma land rush!"

This was the exuberant comment of a Hollywood agent this week as the race was on for the rich remains of MCA. In this race the properties are not prairie farmland but the commissions of movie stars.

And what agent wouldn't put on some speed for 10 per cent of Marion Brando?

To comprehend the situation, you've got to understand the agency business, which takes some understanding. In the early days of Hollywood actors would hustle their own jobs. But as they grew more important, stars felt the need of a go-between to get them better deals with the tough producers.

Hence the agent, who collected 10 per cent of his clients' salaries for everything from negotiating deals to babysitting.

Agencies were minor adjuncts to the movie business until Jules Stein moved in with MCA in the 1930s. By the 1950s, MCA was considered the most powerful force in Hollywood. After a decade of delving into the agency's actions, the government slapped MCA with an anti-trust suit two weeks ago.

The government said MCA had to break up the agency. The company, which had since turned to television filming, was planning to do so anyway. The Screen Actors Guild would no longer let MCA be both agent and producer. Besides, commissions amounted to only 10 per cent of the annual take.

The agency wing of MCA brought in $8,443,677 last year, so you can understand the scramble.

Two new agencies have sprung up in the past week, hastily formed by former MCA employees. No doubt others will follow. And all over town actors are being wined, dined, gifted, cajoled and flattered to get them to join new

Stock Market Mixed, Quiet

NEW YORK (AP)—A sinking spell by Bethlehem Steel featured a mixed and quiet stock market early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 215.20 with industrials unchanged, rails up .20, and utilities unchanged.

Most key stocks showed fractional changes. A scattering of issues moved a point or so.

The market was irregular from the start and lacked any psychological boost to continue Thursday's quiet advance.

The entire steel group seemed depressed by news that, although Bethlehem declared its usual dividend, profits did not cover the 60-cent payout for the second quarter and indications were that third quarter income would also be insufficient.

Muny Court Lists Light Docket

Circleville Municipal Court listed a light traffic docket today. Of four arrests, one was by city police and three by the State Highway Patrol.

Arrested by the City police was Bernice George, Route 4; $50 and costs with $35 of the fine suspended for speeding 60 miles per hour in a 35 mile zone.

Patrol arrests included: Benjamin Schwalbach Jr., 18, 354 E. Ohio St.; $30 and costs for driving a car with a temporary driver's permit.

Robert E. Tigner, 20, Starkey Drive; $100 and costs with $50 of the fine suspended and placed on probation for one year for operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license.

Robert Wayne Spicer, Chillicothe; $15 and costs for failure to display a red flashing light on a hay wagon pulled by a farm tractor or at night.

Southers told police Thursday he has been receiving state compensation benefits and his wife is getting support payments from Aid to Dependent Children.

Police held him on a suspicious persons charge.

Mrs. Southers said she and her husband have no children. She said he was married previously but she didn't know his former wife's name or whether there were any children from the marriage.

Local Woman Fined For Destruction

Rose Hitch Heeter, 213 1/2 W. Ohio St., was fined $25 and costs for intoxication and $50 and costs for malicious destruction of county property in Circleville Municipal Court today.

She was found guilty of breaking three windows in the county jail valued at $15. Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb ordered that she make restitution to the Sheriff's Department for the windows.

Rotarians Hear Ag Director's Talk on Russia

Ohio Director of Agriculture Robert Terhune spoke before a crowded dining room of Rotarians and local businessmen yesterday during the noon luncheon meeting of the Circleville Rotary Club.

Terhune, former principal of Circleville High and Jackson Twp. High Schools, was the program speaker at the noon session yesterday and used his three-week tour of Russia as the subject matter of his talk.

He supplemented his address with a series of colored slides taken on the trip. Rotarians received a first-hand report on farming conditions behind the Iron Curtain and viewed slides of both state and individual farms.

Terhune said the area they were permitted to see near Moscow, was similar to the Ohio farm lands. Farm machinery is approximately 10-15 years behind that produced in the United States, Terhune told the group.

Other slides were shown of areas in Poland, Hungary and West Berlin.

Man Bitten by Dog

A salesman who suffered a dog bite wound was the only person receiving emergency treatment at Berger Hospital yesterday. He was released.

dren regardless of the circumstances, sink or swim," she said Thursday. "It is inevitable that there will be a change, but no plans have been made at present."

The fireworks which Linda fully expected exploded Wednesday night when Cobb admitted to newsmen he was living with her at Roanoke, Va., and with his wife and adopted son at Morganton, N.C.

Linda, a pretty blonde divorcee of 33, said she lived a "quiet and normal life" in Roanoke. Two sons, aged 20 months and two months, were born to her and Cobb here.

Tension crept into the home recently when Time magazine published a story of young Republican leaders in the South. Included was a picture of Cobb.

She and Cobb, 40, an ex-Marine pilot who coupled his political activities with a lucrative lumber business, became concerned that his true identity would be revealed as a result of the picture.

Linda would discuss the situation only with reporters from the Raleigh News & Observer. She formerly lived and worked in Raleigh.

Linda said she moved to Roanoke in August, 1960, and has lived there ever since as a housewife, mother and as Mrs. W. Edward Cobb.

She said Cobb visited the Roanoke home, in a fashionable neighborhood, once or twice a week.

She was born in North Carolina and attended East Carolina College at Greenville for two years. She then became an airline stewardess. In February of 1951 she was married to William Marvin Parker of Raleigh. They were divorced in 1959.

Cobb has said he plans to remain in Morganton and attend to his lumber business. His wife of 19 years is reported planning to stand by him.

Mother of 11 Nabbed In Cincy Vice Raid

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Mattie Fluellen, 35, west end mother of 11 children, faces charges of promoting a numbers scheme and possessing policy slips after a police raid on her home. Officers said they confiscated $350 and policy slips Thursday.

tem that would intrude into Russian territory.

Informants said that the majority opinion in a meeting Thursday of policymakers at the State Department was against dropping the control post requirement at this time, although some presidential advisers reportedly favored such action.

It was also reported that the President's advisers agreed that inspection arrangements at this stage should include both the guaranteed right of on-site inspections in various parts of the Soviet Union where secret atomic tests might be held and internationally manned control posts on Soviet territory.

The administrations obvious hope—however slender it may be—is that the new U.S. safeguard proposals, to be made shortly at the disarmament conference at Geneva, will interest the Soviet government in entering into serious negotiations once again for a ban on the testing of nuclear weapons.

But, since such a development is regarded as highly unlikely at the present stage of the arms race, the alternative aim is to demonstrate this country's interest in obtaining a test ban, even at the cost of what would appear to be new concessions to Soviet opposition to inspection.

Wide differences of opinion within the administration were reported on just how far the United States should go in its new proposals. Some members of Kennedy's White House staff were said to favor eliminating the demand for internationally staffed control posts on Soviet territory and to rely instead on more distant scientific installations to detect any sneak atomic explosions once the ban was in effect.

Other questions up for decisions were how much to reduce the proposed number for inspections which would be made at the source of an unidentified earth shock in Soviet territory, and how much to cut back the number of control posts proposed.

The problem of on-site inspections arises from the fact that, even with the best scientific instrument presently available, not all earth shock can be identified as to origin—whether caused by a nuclear explosion or by an earthquake.

The Western powers recently called for 19 control posts on Soviet territory to be manned permanently by combined staffs of Soviet, Western and neutral personnel. Consideration has been given to reducing the number of posts by 50 per cent or more.

Report Says Small Business Is in Danger

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House Committee on Small Business notified President Kennedy today that concerted effort by industry and government will be needed to assure that small business keeps its place in the American economy.

In its first progress report, the year-old interagency group said that the impact of the recessions of the 1950s has been most severe on small business.

The committee of government officials endorsed several pieces of pending antitrust and tax legislation, including Kennedy's investment tax credit.

It disclosed also that it is considering whether to recommend a government guarantee of the rentals of small business firms. This would be designed to ease a problem of which many small independent retailers have complained—their exclusion from desirable business quarters in new shopping centers, downtown locations and industrial parks.

Deaths

MRS. LUCY DAVIS
Mrs. Lucy Davis, 92, died Wednesday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jay Beale, Mt. Sterling. She was the widow of Marion Davis.

Mrs. Davis was a member of the Sterling Chapter 74 Order of Eastern Star and the Mt. Sterling Pythian Sisters.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Beale; four sons, C. E. Davis, Circleville; W. P. Davis, Powell; Hobart and Harold Davis, both of Columbus; three grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Services will be 3 p. m. Saturday at the Snyder Funeral Home, Mt. Sterling. Burial will be in Pleasant Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

More Varied Education Said Needed

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—The need for a more varied type of educational opportunity in Ohio was stressed here Thursday by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

"It will more than pay for itself in terms of producing a sounder, better ordered and better understood, tolerant existence for all of our citizens," he said. "The development of sound citizens who are learned as well as knowledgeable will help eradicate areas which create many problems for us today."

The governor spoke at the Ashland County Fair, winding up a one-day tour of Central Ohio in his campaign for re-election.

"We cannot assume that the day for the improvement of the individual through educational means will ever be measured by his years," DiSalle said. "We must not only think of elementary, secondary and college training, but we must envision a system of education that encompasses both formal and informal approaches."

Stating that the educational system must be keyed to the needs of the students, the governor added:

"A student is our most important asset and his training will determine the quality of civilization which we will enjoy in the future."

He said each student must be given the opportunity to develop "to his full intellectual capacity without skimping in the area inhabited by our underprivileged."

After visiting his mother in a Toledo hospital, DiSalle made stops at Coshocton, Millersburg and Mount Vernon before coming here.

Noise Experts Say Birds As Loud as Big Trucks

CINCINNATI (AP)—Six residents of Dane Street have lost their bid in police court to convict the Hennis Freight Lines for violating city law against excessive noise.

Hennis' attorney showed that an electronics noise analyzer, operated by police, indicated that song birds around the Dane Street homes were making as much noise as the Hennis Truck Terminal a block away.

Talent Agents in Hollywood Scramble To Pick Up Stars

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"It's the greatest scramble for properties since the Oklahoma land rush!"

This was the exuberant comment of a Hollywood agent this week as the race was on for the rich remains of MCA. In this race the properties are not prairie farmland but the commissions of movie stars.

And what agent wouldn't put on some speed for 10 per cent of Marlon Brando?

To comprehend the situation, you've got to understand the agency business, which takes some understanding. In the early days of Hollywood actors would hustle their own jobs. But as they grew more important, stars felt the need of a go-between to get them better deals with the tough producers.

Hence the agent, who collected 10 per cent of his clients' salaries for everything from negotiating deals to babysitting.

Agencies were minor adjuncts to the movie business until Jules Stein moved in with MCA in the 1930s. By the 1950s, MCA was considered the most powerful force in Hollywood. After a decade of delving into the agency's actions, the government slapped MCA with an anti-trust suit two weeks ago.

The government said MCA had to break up the agency. The company, which had since turned to television filming, was planning to do so anyway. The Screen Actors Guild would no longer let MCA be both agent and producer. Because commissions amounted to only 10 per cent of the annual take.

The agency wing of MCA brought in $8,443,677 last year, so you can understand the scramble.

Two new agencies have sprung up in the past week, hastily formed by former MCA employees. No doubt others will follow. And all over town actors are being wooed, dined, cajoled and flattered to get them to join new

Stock Market Mixed, Quiet

NEW YORK (AP)—A sinking spell by Bethlehem Steel featured a mixed and quiet stock market early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 215.20 with industrials unchanged, rails up .20, and utilities unchanged.

Most key stocks showed fractional changes. A scattering of issues moved a point or so.

The market was irregular from the start and lacked any psychological boost to continue Thursday's quiet advance.

The entire steel group seemed depressed by news that, although Bethlehem declared its usual dividend, profits did not cover the 60-cent payout for the second quarter and indications were that third quarter income would also be insufficient.

Rotarians Hear Ag Director's Talk on Russia

Ohio Director of Agriculture Robert Terhune spoke before a crowded dining room of Rotarians and local businessmen yesterday during the noon luncheon meeting of the Circleville Rotary Club.

Terhune, former principal of Circleville High and Jackson Twp. High Schools, was the program speaker at the noon session yesterday and used his three-week tour of Russia as the subject matter of his talk.

He supplemented his address with a series of colored slides taken on the trip. Rotarians received a first-hand report on farming conditions behind the Iron Curtain and viewed slides of both state and individual farmers.

Terhune said the area they were permitted to see near Moscow, was similar to the Ohio farm lands. Farm machinery is approximately 10-15 years behind that produced in the United States, Terhune told the group.

Other slides were shown of areas in Poland, Hungary and West Berlin.

Store Record Aids Two Lads

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A 12-year-old prescription record in Akron, Ohio, helped Phoenix doctors save the lives of two small boys.

Edward Barbee, 5, and his 4-year-old brother, Timmy, were rushed to a hospital after they began stumbling and falling. Doctors suspected the boys had taken some kind of medicine, but could not determine what it was.

Finally, Edward admitted they had eaten pills from a bottle found in a neighbor's tool shed. The mother, Mrs. George Barbee, tracked down the bottle. It carried the name of an Akron drug store. A quick telephone call and doctors learned the bottle contained a hypnotic barbiturate.

With that information the doctors treated the boys for barbiturate poisoning.

Help Urged for Office Worker

NEW YORK, (AP) — Probably the biggest misfit in America's new physical fitness campaign is the tired office worker.

Pallid-faced and slack-chested, he droops over his desk like a piece of wet laundry hung from the family clothesline. He barely has the strength to totter back and forth to the water cooler half a dozen times a day.

There are those who think the answer to the rehabilitation of the tired business employee is to provide him with a lot more fresh air and exercise. Frankly, I think this would be more likely to kill than cure him.

It isn't more exercise the ordinary office worker needs. He gets more than enough exercise now simply by trying to avoid doing his work. What he really needs is more rest — on company time.

The answer, as I see it, is to revive the old-fashioned siesta — right in the office.

Why do American housewives so consistently outlive their husbands? A partial explanation probably is that they are never far from a sofa while performing their household chores. Whenever they feel a bit weary, they simply lie down and take a nap until the feeling goes away. Then they rise refreshed.

Now let's take the ordinary male office employee. He has probably stayed up to watch the midnight movie on television and wakes up late.

There is no time for a hearty breakfast. Red-eyed from lack of sleep he races to the office and snacks on hot coffee and a sodden cruller.

By noon he is all worn out. Then he goes out for lunch and hungrily gulps down a meal that would stun a python.

When he stumbles back into the office, he can hardly keep his eyes open. Numb with fatigue, he toys restlessly at the papers on his desk all afternoon, getting little or no work done.

What the average office needs is to fill its locker room with couches. After returning from lunch, each wormout employee would stretch out on a couch and, lulled by soft music, grab a good solid hour of shut-eye.

When he got up, restored in mind and body, he would be able to get twice as much work done in the remainder of the afternoon as he does now.

If we are to rejuvenate our white collar class and make them physically fit again — and this has become a patriotic duty — they'll have to get more restful sleep somewhere.

What better place than the office?

Public Thinks Old-Fashioned

Professor James T. S. Porterfield, of Stanford University, has some new and startling ideas about capital investments.

"If logic ruled, an increase in the dividend should not be interpreted as a bullish signal. Instead, it should be a confession by the company that it no longer has anything better to do with its funds. A reduction in the dividend — or better yet, its complete elimination — should often be regarded as a highly favorable development."

Of course, according to this logic, the investor does not count at all. He puts up his money and forgets about it. This is called "sophisticated economics." Do not pay a dividend, unless you fear a stockholder's suit. Hold on to the money, so that new properties may be acquired. Not that the company needs acquisitions. It is getting along all right. Its originators all got rich in the company, but they sold out to fix up their estates for their heirs, to fix a valuation on their properties. Maybe, they retained an equity, selling for partly cash, partly stock in the new company.

Then come the bright enterprisers who need to build a small enterprise into growth by acquisitions. But the acquisitions must be diversified. So what was originally maybe a company to manufacture juubes is now, in addition to the juubes, making hub caps, the cone of a missile, heel lifts and the Lord only knows what.

Also management has set in. The enterpriser usually knows nothing about management which is the capacity to handle numerous details and petty men. The enterpriser understands finance. He understands how to bring together a plausible enterprise, to make an exposition to bankers, who are concerned with the disposal of money without loss, and to create an image which will encourage (without SEC violations) those who buy stocks to buy his (without making forbidden promises).

Mind, the enterpriser performs a very useful task because he is able to find capital and to put it to work. Also he finds and hires competent management. If the management is incompetent, the enterpriser is sunk and his name is Mud. Only too often an enterpriser believes that because he knows how to handle money, he knows how to manage a business. This is as false as to say that because a jockey can ride a horse, he is a horse.

Management is rarely to be trusted to remember who owns the business. In its enthusiasm it only too often believes that it owns the business. Management, in the United States, has, for many years, regarded itself as an elite. Its members belonged to the best clubs, the dues of which were paid by their enterprises. They entertained customers and their wives and their friends and their wives at the company's expense in order to maintain the company image. A President rode in a private plane, which the company owned, and drove in a Cadillac which the company also owned and which was driven by a company chauffeur.

By George Sokolsky

But what about the stockholder? The smaller and newer companies cannot afford luxurious management and dividends, too.

But what about the stockholder? and other economists need to remember is that investments are made to produce capital benefits; that the capitalist system depends upon the constant reinvestment of wealth produced out of profits and dividends; that when investments do not seem profitable, the investor unloads his stock, taking a small initial loss rather than waiting for a total loss.

Perhaps the Professor does not understand why human beings are so selfish as to want a return on their money. He says:

"New companies and others without a record of consistent dividends should think carefully before establishing a payout pattern on dividends. In this way, they can avoid limiting management's freedom of action in seeking the best possible long-run return on their shareholders' investment."

But most shareholders are not interested in a "long-run return." They may be dead when the "long-run" comes around. They want their return as soon as possible, so that they can use their own money as they choose.

The trouble with the new-fangled economists is that they do not understand that the public thinks in old-fashioned terms, such as one plus one equals two and that if you subtract one from one, nothing remains. Zero is an unpleasant number.

The Professor cannot change that sentiment.

Jr. Fair Ag., Home Ec. Events Are Scheduled for Wednesday

Junior Fair Board members in charge of the Junior Fair agricultural and home economics demonstrations are Sue Dennis, chairman, Andrew Duvall and Ned Muselman.

The demonstrations will be held 7 p. m. Wednesday in the 4-H Grange Building. All 4-H club members will be eligible as there will be a junior and senior contest.

Members who were under 14 on Jan. 1, 1962, will be in the junior contest. From the contestants in the senior contest will come the Pickaway County entries for the Ohio State Fair.

Pickaway County may send a total of five 4-H teams or individuals to the Ohio State Fair in home economics and five in agriculture. To be eligible for the trip award, the members must be 14 before Jan. 1, 1962, and be completing at least their third year of 4-H club work.

TWO entries may be in the same class. College students are not eligible.

There will be both team (2 members) and individual contests. Maximum time allowed will be 15 minutes for individuals and 20 minutes for teams, including time to set up demonstration.

Range and refrigerator-freezer will be on the stage available for use during nutrition judging and demonstrations.

There will be both team and individual demonstrations for the classes which are: Home Economics — clothing, nutrition, Home-making other than clothing or nutrition, Dairy Foods, Poultry Foods, Tractor maintenance, Electric, Soil and water, Quality milk and cream, Vegetable production and marketing, Poultry production and marketing. All other agricultural.

Livestock loss prevention must be given by team demonstrations only.

Prizes to be awarded in the senior contest are: Teams; first, gold key to each member; second, silver key to each member, third, bronze key to each member. Prizes to be awarded to individuals in the senior contest are: first, gold key; second, silver key; third, bronze key. Donor: Agricultural Society.

IN THE Junior contest prizes to teams are: first, gold key to each member; second, silver key to each member; third, bronze key to each member.

Prizes to individuals in the junior contest are: first, gold key; second, silver key; third, bronze key. Donor: Pickaway County Granges: Logan Elm, Star, Scioto, Salt-creek Valley, Mt. Pleasant, Nebraska, Scioto Valley and Washington.

Pony Pulling Contest Again On County Fair Action Card

For the Pickaway County Fairgoer who prefers to see tests of endurance and skill combining man and beast, the Pony pulling contest sponsored by the Pickaway County Pony Sales, Inc. will be one of the top attractions of this year's fair.

Emerson Brown is the chairman of the event this year. Ponies will be grouped into two classes, according to size.

They must be entered in the 46 inches and under class or the 46 to 50 inch class. The entry fee in each classification is $2. Ponies will be measured from the bottom of their shoes to determine division placement.

The official Fair veterinarian will take saliva tests of ponies finishing first, second and third. Premium money will be held pending the test results.

If the analysis of a saliva sample indicates that a pony has been drugged or otherwise improperly stimulated, the animal will be disqualified and premium money won will be forfeited by the owner.

Prizes will be awarded in each class. First place offers a trophy and $30; second, $20; third, $15; fourth, $10; fifth, $7; sixth, $3; seventh and eighth position is worth $3.

These are the official rules of the Ohio Pony Pulling Association which will govern the contest:

The distance for each pull will be 14 ft., but distance less than 14 ft. will be used to determine winner or place at the end of the contest.

Each driver will be allowed two helpers.

THERE will be three trials to each load, first and second while hitched to load. The third to come later. Each driver must take first pull.

Whipping or under use of the line, profanity, or shouting will not be permitted.

The weight of load will be determined by the judges.

Any forward movements of load after the driver gives command to go will be counted as a pull.

Each team will be driven by one driver through the entire contest except in case of injury.

Driver must be ready when his turn comes to pull.

There will not be over three tries to hitch or will be counted as a pull.

No small teams will be allowed to pull in second class, but split teams will be allowed.

Bonus Is Returned

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A gunman ordered the manager of a Phoenix drive-in market to hand over the cash.

Tom Parks, 39, gave the robber about $100.

The gunman, in turn, handed Parks $5 in trading stamps, then fled.

Help Urged for Office Worker

NEW YORK, (AP) — Probably the biggest misfit in America's new physical fitness campaign is the tired office worker.

Pallid-faced and slack-chested, he droops over his desk like a piece of wet laundry hung from the family clothesline. He barely has the strength to totter back and forth to the water cooler half a dozen times a day.

There are those who think the answer to the rehabilitation of the tired business employee is to provide him with a lot more fresh air and exercise. Frankly, I think this would be more likely to kill than cure him.

It isn't more exercise the ordinary office worker needs. He gets more than enough exercise now simply by trying to avoid doing his work. What he really needs is more rest—on company time.

The answer, as I see it, is to revive the old-fashioned siesta — right in the office.

Why do American housewives so consistently outlive their husbands? A partial explanation probably is that they are never far from a sofa while performing their household chores. Whenever they feel a bit weary, they simply lie down and take a nap until the feeling goes away. Then they rise refreshed.

Now let's take the ordinary male office employee. He has probably stayed up to watch the midnight movie on television and wakes up late.

There is no time for a hearty breakfast. Red-eyed from lack of sleep he races to the office and snacks on hot coffee and a sodden cruller.

By noon he is all worn out. Then he goes out for lunch and hungrily gulps down a meal that would stun a python.

When he stumbles back into the office, he can hardly keep his eyes open. Numb with fatigue, he toys restlessly at the papers on his desk all afternoon, getting little or no work done.

What the average office needs is to fill its locker room with couches. After returning from lunch, each worn-out employee would stretch out on a couch and, lulled by soft music, grab a good solid hour of shut-eye.

When he got up, restored in mind and body, he would be able to get twice as much work done in the remainder of the afternoon as he does now.

If we are to rejuvenate our white collar class and make them physically fit again—and this has become a patriotic duty—they'll have to get more restful sleep somewhere.

What better place than the office?

Jr. Fair Ag., Home Ec. Events Are Scheduled for Wednesday

Junior Fair Board members in charge of the Junior Fair agricultural and home economics demonstrations are Sue Dennis, chairman, Andrew Duvall and Ned Muselman.

The demonstrations will be held 7 p. m. Wednesday in the 4-H Grange Building. All 4-H club members will be eligible as there will be a junior and senior contest.

Members who were under 14 on Jan. 1, 1962, will be in the junior contest. From the contestants in the senior contest will come the Pickaway County entries for the Ohio State Fair.

Pickaway County may send a total of five 4-H teams or individuals to the Ohio State Fair in home economics and five in agriculture. To be eligible for the trip award, the members must be 14 before Jan. 1, 1962, and be completing at least their third year of 4-H club work.

TWO entries may be in the same class. College students are not eligible.

There will be both team (2 members) and individual contests. Maximum time allowed will be 15 minutes for individuals and 20 minutes for teams, including time to set up demonstration.

Range and refrigerator-freezer will be on the stage available for use during nutrition judging and demonstrations.

There will be both team and individual demonstrations for the classes which are: Home Economics — clothing, nutrition, Homemaking other than clothing or nutrition, Dairy Foods, Poultry Foods, Tractor maintenance, Electric, Soil and water, Quality milk and cream, Vegetable production and marketing, Poultry production and marketing. All other agricultural.

Livestock loss prevention must be given by team demonstrations only.

Prizes to be awarded in the senior contest are: Teams; first, gold key to each member; second, silver key to each member; third, bronze key to each member. Prizes to be awarded to individuals in the senior contest are: first, gold key; second, silver key; third, bronze key. Donor: Agricultural Society.

Pony Pulling Contest Again On County Fair Action Card

For the Pickaway County Fairgoer who prefers to see tests of endurance and skill combining man and beast, the Pony pulling contest sponsored by the Pickaway County Pony Sales, Inc. will be one of the top attractions of this year's fair.

Emerson Brown is the chairman of the event this year. Ponies will be grouped into two classes, according to size.

They must be entered in the 46 inches and under class or the 46 to 50 inch class. The entry fee in each classification is $2. Ponies will be measured from the bottom of their shoes to determine division placement.

The official Fair veterinarian will take saliva tests of ponies finishing first, second and third. Premium money will be held pending the test results.

If the analysis of a saliva sample indicates that a pony has been drugged or otherwise improperly stimulated, the animal will be disqualified and premium money won will be forfeited by the owner.

Prizes will be awarded in each class. First place offers a trophy and $30; second, $20; third, $15; fourth, $10; fifth, $7; sixth, $3; seventh and eighth position is worth $3.

These are the official rules of the Ohio Pony Pulling Association which will govern the contest:

The distance for each pull will be 14 ft., but distance less than 14 ft. will be used to determine winner or place at the end of the contest.

Each driver will be allowed two helpers.

THERE will be three trials to each load, first and second while hitched to load. The third to come later. Each driver must take first pull.

Whipping or under use of the line, profanity, or shouting will not be permitted.

The weight of load will be determined by the judges.

Any forward movements of load after the driver gives command to go will be counted as a pull.

Each team will be driven by one driver through the entire contest except in case of injury.

Driver must be ready when his turn comes to pull.

There will not be over three tries to hitch or will be counted as a pull.

No small teams will be allowed to pull in second class, but split teams will be allowed.

Bonus Is Returned

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A gunman ordered the manager of a Phoenix drive-in market to hand over the cash.

Tom Parks, 39, gave the robber about $100.

The gunman, in turn, handed Parks $5 in trading stamps, then fled.

IN THE Junior contest prizes to teams are: first, gold key to each member; second, silver key to each member; third, bronze key to each member.

Prizes to individuals in the junior contest are: first, gold key; second, silver key; third, bronze key. Donor: Pickaway County Grange; Logan Elm, Star, Scioto, Salt Creek Valley, Mt. Pleasant, Nebraska, Scioto Valley and Washington.

Public Thinks Old-Fashioned

Professor James T. S. Porterfield, of Stanford University, has some new and startling ideas about capital investments:

"If logic ruled, an increase in the dividend should not be interpreted as a bullish signal. Instead, it should be a confession by the company that it no longer has anything better to do with its funds. A reduction in the dividend—or better yet, its complete elimination—should often be regarded as a highly favorable development."

Of course, according to this logic, the investor does not count at all. He puts up his money and forgets about it. This is called "sophisticated economics." Do not pay a dividend, unless you fear a stockholder's suit. Hold on to the money, so that new properties may be acquired. Not that the company needs acquisitions. It is getting along all right. Its originators all got rich in the company, but they sold out to fix up their estates for their heirs, to fix a valuation on their properties. Maybe, they retained an equity, selling for partly cash, partly stock in the new company.

Then come the bright entrepreneurs who need to build a small enterprise into growth by acquisitions. But the acquisitions must be diversified. So what was originally maybe a company to manufacture jujubes is now, in addition to the jujubes, making hubcaps, the cone of a missile, heel lifts and the Lord only knows what.

Also management has set in. The entrepreneur usually knows nothing about management which is the capacity to handle numerous details and petty men. The entrepreneur understands finance. He understands how to bring together a plausible enterprise, to make an exposition to bankers, who are concerned with the disposal of money without loss, and to create an image which will encourage (without SEC violations) those who buy stocks to buy his (without making forbidden promises).

Mind, the entrepreneur performs a very useful task because he is able to find capital and to put it to work. Also he finds and hires competent management. If the management is incompetent, the entrepreneur is sunk and his name is mud. Only too often an entrepreneur believes that because he knows how to handle money, he knows how to manage a business. This is as false as to say that because a jockey can ride a horse, he is a horse.

Management is rarely to be trusted to remember who owns the business. In its enthusiasm it only too often believes that it owns the business. Management, in the United States, has, for many years, regarded itself as an elite. Its members belonged to the best clubs, the dues of which were paid by their enterprises. They entertained customers and their wives and their friends and their wives at the company's expense in order to maintain the company image. A President rode in a private plane, which the company owned, and drove in a Cadillac which the company also owned and which was driven by a company chauffeur.

But what about the stockholder? The smaller and newer companies cannot afford luxurious management and dividends, too.

But what about the stockholder? and other economists need to remember is that investments are made to produce capital benefits; that the capitalist system depends upon the constant reinvestment of wealth produced out of profits and dividends; that when investments do not seem profitable, the investor unloads his stock, taking a small initial loss rather than waiting for a total loss.

Perhaps the Professor does not understand why human beings are so selfish as to want a return on their money. He says:

"New companies and others without a record of consistent dividends should think carefully before establishing a payout pattern on dividends. In this way, they can avoid limiting management's freedom of action in seeking the best possible long-run return on their shareholders' investment."

But most shareholders are not interested in a "long-run return." They may be dead when the "long-run" comes around. They want their return as soon as possible, so that they can use their own money as they choose.

The trouble with the new-fangled economists is that they do not understand that the public thinks in old-fashioned terms, such as one plus one equals two and that if you subtract one from one, nothing remains. Zero is an unpleasant number.

The Professor cannot change that sentiment.

Junior Fair Has Many Top Awards

Special Junior Fair Features and Awards this year will include sending 10 representatives to the Ohio 4-H Congress.

Seven 4-H Club members and three 4-H Club Advisers will have the opportunity to attend 4-H Club Congress at Ohio State University this fall. The representatives will be sponsored by:

The Circleville Kiwanis Club, Bowling Livestock Co., Circleville Oil Co., Circleville Lions Club,

4-H Electric Clubs Planning Booth Exhibits

The Pickaway County farm electricity 4-H clubs will make booth exhibits at this year's fair.

The judging will be divided into three classifications designated as first year farm electricity, second year farm electricity and third year farm electricity.

Members in the first and second year classes will exhibit a lamp and one other article. The first place winner will receive a cup, donated by the Dunlap Co. to the first year class and by the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. to the second year class.

Second place winner will receive $3, and the third place winner will receive $2. No third place award will be given in the second year class.

MEMBERS in third year farm electricity will display a complete project. The South Central REA will be the donor of the special awards.

Two exhibits will be selected for the state fair participation from the above three classes. This selection will be based on both project quality and on the members' total records.

Premiums will be awarded as listed in the general junior fair rules.

Modern Indians

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP) — Canvas tepees are more popular at Indian City U. S. A. here because, as one Indian guide put it, "buffalo hides stink."

First National Bank, Hatfield Real Estate, C. D. Bennett Insurance, and the Williamsport Bank.

Other awards are: 4-H members, chosen by 4-H advisory award committee, are to attend Conservation Camp at Camp Ohio. The members will be sponsored by the Soil Conservation District.

THE 4-H advisory awards committee will select a 4-H member to attend Forestry Camp, Container Corporation of America, the DAR (Pickaway Plains Chapter), and the Ankrom Lumber Co. will sponsor the representative.

Circleville Hardware will award banners to the six Agriculture and Home Economic clubs placing highest on the honor score sheets.

Ralston Purina will donate trophies to the first place boy and the first place girl, and a medal to the next highest score, whether boy or girl, in the Health Achievement contest.

The Agricultural Society will give pins to each 4-H Club member who has completed one or more projects. The pins will represent the number of years in which the member has completed one or more projects.

A banquet will be held early next spring for the Pickaway County 4-H Club members who served in 1961 or will serve in 1962. Bowling Livestock Co., Pickaway Grain Co., Farm Bureau Co-op, Farm Bureau Co-op Assn. Dehydrator, and the Pickaway Dairy Co-op Assn. will sponsor the banquet.

The Home Economics Clubs 4-H Heart Award, a cup trophy, will be awarded to the member most thoughtful and helpful. In club community service, to other members of the club, to club leaders, to county office, and in county activities of 4-H. The donor is anonymous.

THE 4-H Service Award, a plaque for boys only, will be awarded on the same basis as the 4-H Heart Award. The donor is anonymous.

A copy of the National 4-H News is sent to each 4-H Club in the county by the same Co-ops that sponsor the Advisor Banquet.

The Circleville Rotary Club will award a special 4-H jacket as a Junior Leader Honor Award.

The Pickaway County Safety Council will award $5 to the top boy and girl in the Safety Speaking Contest.

Conducting Fair Annual Task Of Agricultural Society Men

Heading up the many phases of planning and chores necessary to conduct the county fair here is the Pickaway County Agricultural Society.

This is an official body organized under laws of the State of Ohio. It is charged with the conduct of an exposition of value, either agricultural or educational.

Officers of the Pickaway County Agricultural Society for this term are Charles Rose, president; Loring Leist, vice president; Ralph May, treasurer; and William Cook, secretary-manager.

The Society consists of 21 directors, one third of whose terms expire each year. There also are eight ex-officio board members.

MEMBERS of the board of directors are elected by members of the Society. Membership is open to all residents of Pickaway County at a cost of $2 per year. This membership fee also entitles members to admission to the fair and voting privileges.

Ballots for the next election will be sent to Society members about Nov. 1. Seven new directors will be elected for a three-year term.

Current members of the board whose terms expire Jan. 1, 1963 are Ralph May and Ward Skinner, Circleville; Loring Leist, Washington Twp.; J. B. Stevenson, Wayne Twp.; Wayne Brown, Madison Twp.; Dr. Wells Wilson, Pickaway Twp.; Sterling Poling, Saltcreek Twp.

Directors whose terms end Jan. 1, 1964, are Richard Wilson and Wayne Martin, Circleville; George Mowery, Jackson Twp.; Ralph McDill, Circleville Twp.; D. P. Courtright, Harrison Twp.; Don Collins, Walnut Twp.; Mostyn Garrett, Darby Twp.

Those whose terms expire Jan. 1, 1965, are Don Poling and James Ford, Circleville; Ross Bidwell, Scioto Twp.; Paul Peck, Perry Twp.; Kenneth Shell, Monroe Twp.; Charles Rose, Deer Creek Twp.; and Francis Clark, Muhlenberg Twp.

Junior Fair Has Many Top Awards

Special Junior Fair Features and Awards this year will include sending 10 representatives to the Ohio 4-H Congress.

Seven 4-H Club members and three 4-H Club Advisers will have the opportunity to attend 4-H Club Congress at Ohio State University this fall. The representatives will be sponsored by:

The Circleville Kiwanis Club, Bowling Livestock Co., Circleville Oil Co., Circleville Lions Club,

4-H Electric Clubs Planning Booth Exhibits

The Pickaway County farm electricity 4-H clubs will make booth exhibits at this year's Fair.

The judging will be divided into three classifications designated as first year farm electricity, second year farm electricity and third year farm electricity.

Members in the first and second year classes will exhibit a lamp and one other article. The first place winner will receive a cup, donated by the Dunlap Co. to the first year class and by the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. to the second year class.

Second place winner will receive $3, and the third place winner will receive $2. No third place award will be given in the second year class.

MEMBERS in third year farm electricity will display a complete project. The South Central REA will be the donor of the special awards.

Two exhibits will be selected for the state fair participation from the above three classes. This selection will be based on both project quality and on the members' total records.

Premiums will be awarded as listed in the general junior fair rules.

Modern Indians

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP)—Canvas tepees are more popular at Indian City U. S. A. here because, as one Indian guide put it, "buffalo hides stink."

First National Bank, Hatfield Real Estate, C. D. Bennett Insurance, and the Williamsport Bank.

Other awards are: 4-H members, chosen by 4-H advisory award committee, are to attend Conservation Camp at Camp Ohio. The members will be sponsored by the Soil Conservation District.

THE 4-H advisory awards committee will select a 4-H member to attend Forestry Camp. Contain Corporation of America, the DAR (Pickaway Plains Chapter), and the Ankrum Lumber Co. will sponsor the representative.

Circleville Hardware will award banners to the six Agriculture and Home Economic clubs placing highest on the honor score sheets. Ralston Purina will donate trophies to the first place boy and the first place girl, and a medal to the next highest score, whether boy or girl, in the Health Achievement contest.

The Agricultural Society will give pins to each 4-H Club member who has completed one or more projects. The pins will represent the number of years in which the member has completed one or more projects.

A banquet will be held early next spring for the Pickaway County 4-H Club members who served in 1961 or will serve in 1962. Bowling Livestock Co., Pickaway Grain Co., Farm Bureau Co-op, Farm Bureau Co-op Assn. Dehydrator, and the Pickaway Dairy Co-op Assn. will sponsor the banquet.

Aid to Beach-Going Glamour

NYLON ORGANDY CAP — Feather-light and flattering nylon organdy cap keeps coiffure from getting windblown. Carry-all comes to match.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Envy the outdoor girl. She is at her best on the beach.

Her figure — trim and slim, thanks to exercise — is lovely in a bathing suit. Her hairdo looks wonderful even when windblown.

Envy her, indeed, for she's part of a minority group.

The average woman enjoys getting in the swim but is not at her best, appearance-wise, when under the sun.

What are her problems? The two most prevalent ones go from one extreme (hairdo) to the other (legs).

It's not easy to keep a coiffure in line at the beach. Wind blows it out. Waves wash it out. If you are not the rare girl who looks well windblown, what to do?

Two solutions are now available at beach shops.

Solution Number 1 is a two-in-one novelty—a wig, as well as a swimcap.

The cap, covered with quick-drying saran curls, comes in platinum, blonde, black, pink or blue.

Wear it in the swim, suggests its maker, and wear it on the beach as well as a curly cover-up for hair-set clips.

Solution Number 2, aimed at solving the windblown problem, is a flattering bouffant cap that will keep curls in place in the biggest blow.

Made of sheer nylon organdy,

the cap is light as a feather and very cool. It comes in blue with purple and gold braid or in melon with orange and gold braid.

A matching carry-all bag with plastic lining is available.

The big beach problem with legs is that most women tend to have rather heavy thighs. It's a hard-to-hide fact when you slip on a swimsuit.

You can conceal the problem to a large degree, however, by choosing the right suit.

The most flattering style of all is the suit with little boy pants that cover the heaviest part of the thigh.

Avoid very brief suits or those with elastic legs that cause bulges.

If legs are very heavy, use good beauty sense and wear a wrap-around beach skirt over your suit when you're not in the water.

Unightly veins also cause legs—even slim ones—to look less than lovely in a swimsuit.

If veins are your problem, there is a preparation on the market that can be used to camouflage them.

The formula won't peel, crack or chip off. It won't wash off when you go swimming, either, if you dust it with a special colorless finishing powder.

Originally crated to conceal birthmarks, the cover-up formula comes in skin-matching shades.

Choir Members Attend Picnic, Swim Party

The Junior Choir of the Emanuel EUB Church enjoyed a swimming party and picnic at Gold Cliff Park.

Attending were Mary Brown, Sally, Marsha and Chris Long, Sheryl and Carol Binns, Ronnie Malone, Brenda and Danny Fausnaugh, Dean Glitt, Elaine and Wendall Calton, Stevie and Teresa Allen, Debbie and Cindy Smith, Debbie Eaton, Peggy and Danny Cooper and chaperons, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Metzler.

Cincy Jewish Group OKs Ruling on Prayer

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Jewish Community Relations Committee today endorsed the recent U. S. Supreme Court decision that state boards cannot compose prayers to be recited by children in public schools.

The committee said it believed "America will realize that, in the long run, this decision is a victory for religion and religious freedom, and will aid all beliefs."

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

I'm with You!

DEAR ABBY: We are three 15-year-old girls with the same problem—our parents. Last night we and three very nice boys (one is 16 and the other two are 17) drove to a nearby lake with our parents' permission. We agreed to be home by 11:00 p.m. but we had car trouble and didn't get back until 2:00 a.m. When we got home our parents hit the ceiling. They didn't believe us, and wouldn't even let us explain. Now we aren't allowed to see these boys all summer. I thought parents were supposed to trust their children. Is this fair? A., F. and H.

DEAR GIRLS: No. Your parents reacted out of anger and fear. I hope they simmer down and reconsider because your excuse was valid. If this is your first offense, you deserve a pardon. Unjust punishment makes young people bitter—not better.

DEAR ABBY: Our neighbors have two small children. The boy is 14 months old and the girl is two and a half. They let these children play outside without a stitch of clothes on. I went over there and told the mother to put pants on the children and she said I was an evil-minded old lady and the children were only "babies." Is there something wrong with me, or has the whole world gone crazy? FORTY-FOUR-YEAR-OLD LADY

DEAR LADY: The world has not gone crazy, but I'm not so sure about your neighbor. If your neighbor wants to let her children run naked, she should keep them indoors.

DEAR ABBY: I had the dearest little puppy a while ago. She looked like a fox. She died, Abby. Is there room enough in heaven for dogs? I know a boy who asked his Sunday School teacher and she said there wasn't.

DOG LOVER
DEAR DOG LOVER: I am sure that God, in His goodness, has made room for all of His Creatures.

DEAR ABBY: Please do the maids who work in motels and hotels a big favor? Tell folks who want to tip us to please give it to us in person. Guests frequently leave something for the maid, and the housekeeper comes in to "check" the room immediately after it has been vacated, and she takes the tip.

Aid to Beach-Going Glamour

NYLON ORGANDY CAP — Feather-light and flattering nylon organdy cap keeps coiffure from getting windblown. Carry-all comes to match.

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN
Envy the outdoor girl. She is at her best on the beach.

Her figure — trim and slim, thanks to exercise — is lovely in a bathing suit. Her hairdo looks wonderful even when windblown.

Envy her, indeed, for she's part of a minority group.

The average woman enjoys getting in the swim but is not at her best, appearance-wise, when under the sun.

What are her problems? The two most prevalent ones go from one extreme (hairdo) to the other (legs).

It's not easy to keep a coiffure in line at the beach. Wind blows it out. Waves wash it out. If you are not the rare girl who looks well windblown, what to do?

Two solutions are now available at beach shops.

Solution Number 1 is a two-in-one novelty—a wig, as well as a swimcap.

The cap, covered with quick-drying saran curls, comes in platinum, blonde, black, pink or blue.

Wear it in the swim, suggests its maker, and wear it on the beach as well as a curly cover-up for hair-set clips.

Solution Number 2, aimed at solving the windblown problem, is a flattering bouffant cap that will keep curls in place in the biggest blow.

Made of sheer nylon organdy,

the cap is light as a feather and very cool. It comes in blue with purple and gold braid or in melon with orange and gold braid. A matching carry-all bag with plastic lining is available.

The big beach problem with legs is that most women tend to have rather heavy thighs. It's a hard-to-hide fact when you slip on a swimsuit.

You can conceal the problem to a large degree, however, by choosing the right suit.

The most flattering style of all is the suit with little boy pants that cover the heaviest part of the thigh.

Avoid very brief suits or those with elastic legs that cause bulges.

If legs are very heavy, use good beauty sense and wear a wrap-around beach skirt over your suit when you're not in the water.

Unpleasantly veined legs — even slim ones — look less than lovely in a swimsuit.

If veins are your problem, there is a preparation on the market that can be used to camouflage them.

The formula won't peel, crack or chip off. It won't wash off when you go swimming, either, if you dust it with a special colorless finishing powder.

Originally created to conceal birthmarks, the cover-up formula comes in skin-matching shades.

Choir Members Attend Picnic, Swim Party

The Junior Choir of the Emanuel EUB Church enjoyed a swimming party and picnic at Gold Cliff Park.

Attending were Mary Brown, Sally, Marsha and Chris Long, Sheryl and Carol Binns, Ronnie Malone, Brenda and Danny Fausnaugh, Dean Glitt, Elaine and Wendall Calton, Stevie and Teresa Allen, Debbie and Cindy Smith, Debbie Eaton, Peggy and Danny Cooper and chaperons, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Metzler.

Cincy Jewish Group OKs Ruling on Prayer

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Jewish Community Relations Committee today endorsed the recent U. S. Supreme Court decision that state boards cannot compose prayers to be recited by children in public schools.

The committee said it believed "America will realize that, in the long run, this decision is a victory for religion and religious freedom, and will aid all beliefs."

Dear Abby: I'm with You!

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We are three 15-year-old girls with the same problem—our parents. Last night we and three very nice boys (one is 16 and the other two are 17) drove to a nearby lake with our parents' permission. We agreed to be home by 11:00 p.m. but we had car trouble and didn't get back until 2:00 a.m. When we got home our parents hit the ceiling. They didn't believe us, and wouldn't even let us explain. Now we aren't allowed to see these boys all summer. I thought parents were supposed to trust their children. Is this fair?
A., F. and H.

DEAR GIRLS: No. Your parents reacted out of anger and fear. I hope they simmer down and reconsider because your excuse was valid. If this is your first offense, you deserve a pardon. Unjust punishment makes young people bitter — not better.

DEAR ABBY: Our neighbors have two small children. The boy is 14 months old and the girl is two and a half. They let these children play outside without a stitch of clothes on. I went over there and told the mother to put pants on the children and she said I was an evil-minded old lady and the children were only "babies." Is there something wrong with me, or has the whole world gone crazy? FORTY-FOUR-YEAR-OLD LADY

DEAR LADY: The world has not gone crazy, but I'm not so sure about your neighbor. If your neighbor wants to let her children run naked, she should keep them in doors.

DEAR ABBY: I had the dearest little puppy a while ago. She looked like a fox. She died, Abby. Is there room enough in heaven for dogs? I know a boy who asked his Sunday School teacher and she said there wasn't.

DOG LOVER
DEAR DOG LOVER: I am sure that God, in His goodness, has made room for all of His Creatures.

DEAR ABBY: Please do the maids who work in motels and hotels a big favor? Tell folks who want to tip us to please give it to us in person. Guests frequently leave something for the maid, and the housekeeper comes in to "check" the room immediately after it has been vacated, and she takes the tip.

Jeremiah Sees Hope

A MESSAGE OF HOPE FOR THE PEOPLE OF JUDAH IN A TIME OF DEFEAT AND DISCOURAGEMENT

Scripture—II Kings 24:13-16; Jeremiah 29:1-4; 30:18-24; 31:35-36-42; 33:14-26.

By N. SPEER JONES

IN THIS week's lesson we have a fine illustration of the way God moves in apparently evil ways, only to purify us and draw us closer to Him. The subject matter here is the early deportation to Babylon and God's promise of a new covenant with His people.

This early deportation occurred in 597 B.C. A rebellion under Jehoiakim against Babylon had been quelled, and the country somewhat ravaged (II Kings 24:1-4). The next king, Jehoiachin, his son, was 18 years old, and his reign lasted only three months. During that time Jerusalem was besieged and the young king, along with all the nobles and important people—some 10 thousand in all—was taken to Babylon. Jehoi-chinn languished in prison some thirty-seven years there. The others were relatively free, but were depressed and unsettled, full of longing and schemes to return to their homeland.

It is to these people that the prophet Jeremiah writes. He himself has been allowed to remain in Jerusalem.

His letter was sent via two ambassadors of the next king of Judah, Zedekiah, to Nebuchadnezzar, assuring that king, no doubt, of his loyalty, and perhaps attempting to bring about the return of the captives. These two ambassadors were a son of Shaphan and a son of Hilkiah, the secretary and high priest, respectively, of the good king Josiah.

Jeremiah's message to the captives is designed to bring them peace of mind—a peace of mind without which they cannot rediscover their God. Instead of harboring rancor against their captors, and restlessly plotting their return, they are to "turn their captivity" to their advantage. They are to build permanent homes there and begin new lives, for Jeremiah knows from God Himself that they are destined to remain not a few years, but 70.

He reminds them that their captivity is God's doing, and they must seek the provocation for it in no one but themselves. Then Jeremiah gives the captives two more prophecies. One is very dire: all those remaining in Jerusalem, supposedly better off than the captives, will meet with the direst catastrophe as the city is totally destroyed. With war, with plague and with famine, they will become "like wild figs" (a reference to the parable of the baskets of figs).

The other prophecy is by sharpest contrast, one of the most glorious on record. When the scattered Israelites "shall search for Me with all your heart," God will be found by them, and will return them to their own land and to their heritage.

Then we come to the prediction of the new covenant which God promises His people—one in which the human soul shall be righteous without rules and regulations (Jeremiah 31:31-37; 32:36-42). We also have the prophecy of the coming of Christ—the "Branch of Righteousness" which will "grow up unto David" (Jeremiah 33:15).

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is over a barrel.

It reacted strongly against military seizure of power in Peru last week. This probably won't last long. It had similar reactions in other places and wound up doing business.

It didn't like the military coup which threw out the president of Korea in 1961. Before year's end President Kennedy and junta boss Gen. Chung Hee Park were reaffirming the two countries' "strong bonds of friendship."

When the military in Argentina last March disliked the elections results and threw out the president, this country hesitated about giving recognition. It waited three weeks and gave the recognition.

In other countries in Latin America—Paraguay, Haiti, Nicaragua, Guatemala—it has given recognition to dictatorship governments of one kind or another.

And, among other countries, it has diplomatic relations with two of the most persistent, contemporary dictatorships—Spain and Portugal—and has bases on their territory.

By the very nature of its policy—encouraging democracies—the United States can't afford to welcome military coups or dictatorships without some show of hesitancy.

But by the very nature of its dilemma—in trying to stop communism—it apparently feels it can't afford to shut the door on anti-Communist regimes, even though they are anti-Democratic. Yet, American recognition of anti-Democratic governments cannot avoid doing three things:

1. Give communism anti-American propaganda.
 2. Add to the uneasiness of shaky Democratic governments trying to survive under pressure from left and right.
 3. Create skepticism among some people in backward countries about the sincerity of the United States in their Democratic future.

If the United States tries to intervene on the side of a Democratic regime in Latin America, it can be accused of butting into the people's affairs, a complaint the United States would like to avoid.

But if it refuses recognition of a right-wing government, and shuts off relations, it abandons any moderating force it might have asserted and leaves the field to a struggle between the far right and communism.

In Peru, where the military take-over is only 11 days old, American Ambassador James Loeb has been accused by the Peruvian foreign ministry of interfering in Peru's affairs.

The United States has suspended relations with the new regime and called Loeb home. Other Latin-American countries—Mexico and Chile, for instance—have suspended relations, too.

Just as big as any other dilemma for the United States in Latin America is this:

How long can it keep on recognizing dictatorships—military or civilian—without encouraging more of the same until Kennedy's much-proclaimed Alliance for Progress looks like an empty gesture?

Tractor Club Members Eye Fair Contest

At 9 a. m. Saturday, the last day of the Fair, members of the 4-H tractor clubs will stage a tractor operators contest in front of the grandstand.

The youthful 4-H members are required to operate a tractor pulling a hay rake through an obstacle course, with "gates" that are narrower than the rake.

Another of the requirements is to back a four wheel and a two wheel trailer and to back up the tractor to hitch and unhitch various implements.

The winner of the local competition will participate in the Ohio State Fair contest.

Hill Implement Co. will donate the first place trophy and the Beckett Implement Co. will award the second place trophy.

Junior fair board members in charge of the contest are Robert Bower, chairman, David Moody, Larry Vance, Jim Shell and Gene Long.

GOLDEN TEXT

"This is the covenant which I will make with the house of Israel after those days, says the Lord: I will put My law within them, and I will write it upon their hearts; and I will be their God, and they shall be My people."—Jeremiah 31:33.

chins languished in prison some thirty-seven years there. The others were relatively free, but were depressed and unsettled, full of longing and schemes to return to their homeland.

It is to these people that the prophet Jeremiah writes. He himself has been allowed to remain in Jerusalem.

His letter was sent via two ambassadors of the next king of Judah, Zedekiah, to Nebuchadnezzar, assuring that king, no doubt, of his loyalty, and perhaps attempting to bring about the return of the captives. These two ambassadors were a son of Shaphan and a son of Hilkiah, the secretary and high priest, respectively, of the good king Josiah.

Jeremiah's message to the captives is designed to bring them up to date on the situation in Jerusalem.

stroyed. With war, with plague and with famine, they will become "like vile figs" (a reference to the parable of the baskets of figs).

The other prophecy is by far the most glorious on record. When the scattered Israelites "shall search for Me with all your heart," God will be found by them, and will return them to their own land and to their heritage.

Then we come to the prediction of the new covenant which God promises His people—one in which the human soul shall be righteous without rules and regulations (Jeremiah 31:31-37; 32:36-42). We also have the prophecy of the coming of Christ—the "Branch of Righteousness" which will "grow up unto David" (Jeremiah 33:15).

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is over a barrel. It reacted strongly against military seizure of power in Peru last week. This probably won't last long. It had similar reactions in other places and wound up doing business.

It didn't like the military coup which threw out the president of Korea in 1961. Before year's end President Kennedy and junta boss Gen. Chung Hee Park were reaffirming the two countries' "strong bonds of friendship."

When the military in Argentina last March disliked the elections results and threw out the president, this country hesitated about giving recognition. It waited three weeks and gave the recognition.

In other countries in Latin America—Paraguay, Haiti, Nicaragua, Guatemala—it has given recognition to dictatorship governments of one kind or another.

And, among other countries, it has diplomatic relations with two of the most persistent, contemporary dictatorships—Spain and Portugal—and has bases on their territory.

By the very nature of its policy — encouraging democracies — the United States can't afford to welcome military coups or dictatorships without some show of hesitancy.

But by the very nature of its dilemma—in trying to stop communism—it apparently feels it can't afford to shut the door on anti-Communist regimes, even though they are anti-Democratic. Yet, American recognition of anti-Democratic governments cannot avoid doing three things:

1. Give communism anti-American propaganda.
2. Add to the uneasiness of shaky Democratic governments trying to survive under pressure from left and right.
3. Create skepticism among some people in backward countries about the sincerity of the United States in their Democratic future.

If the United States tries to intervene on the side of a Democratic regime in Latin America, it can be accused of butting into the people's affairs, a complaint the United States would like to avoid.

But if it refuses recognition of a right-wing government, and shuts off relations, it abandons any moderating force it might have asserted and leaves the field to a struggle between the far right and communism.

In Peru, where the military take-over is only 11 days old, American Ambassador James Loeb has been accused by the Peruvian foreign ministry of interfering in Peru's affairs.

The United States has suspended relations with the new regime and called Loeb home. Other Latin-American countries — Mexico and Chile, for instance — have suspended relations, too.

Just as big as any other dilemma for the United States in Latin America is this:

How long can it keep on recognizing dictatorships—military or civilian — without encouraging more of the same until Kennedy's much-proclaimed Alliance for Progress looks like an empty gesture?

Tractor Club Members Eye Fair Contest

At 9 a. m. Saturday, the last day of the Fair, members of the 4-H tractor clubs will stage a tractor operators contest in front of the grandstand.

The youthful 4-H members are required to operate a tractor pulling a hay rake through an obstacle course, with "gates" that are narrower than the rake.

Another of the requirements is to back a four wheel and a two wheel trailer and to back up the tractor to hitch and unhitch various implements.

The winner of the local competition will participate in the Ohio State Fair contest.

Hill Implement Co. will donate the first place trophy and the Beckett Implement Co. will award the second place trophy.

Junior fair board members in charge of the contest are Robert Bower, chairman, David Moody, Larry Vance, Jim Shell and Gene Long.

Junior Fair Board Governs All Youth Projects, Exhibits

Youth projects exhibited in the many departments of the Pickaway County Fair are submitted under the supervision of the Junior Fair Board.

The Junior Fair Board governs all youth activity and exhibits including 4-H, FFA and FHA.

John Moss Jr. is president of the junior officials this year. Sharon Sharrett is vice president and Peggy Clark is secretary.

The board consists of 20 members in addition to the officers. They are: Carolyn Walters, Sue Dennis, Andrew Duvall, Ned Musselman, Larry Vance, Donna Mowery, Cindy Liff, Gene Long, David Moody, Jeri Skinner, Jim Shell, Ralph England, David McDonald, Jerry Vance, Robert Bower, Sue Ruhl, Dora Greene, Mary Ann Morris, Leonard Sines and Carol Torchick.

HIGHLIGHTING Junior Fair activities is the King and Queen contest and Talent Show and contest, in addition to the many livestock and project exhibits.

Some of the rules and by-laws set down by the board are: All exhibitors must be a member of their respective youth organization during the current year—4-H, FFA and FHA.

No entry fees will be charged for Junior exhibitors in Junior Fair Classes.

A maximum of two entries will be permitted per class. Animals from FFA projects will not be permitted as 4-H projects nor can 4-H animals be used in FFA projects.

Ernie Kovacs Widow Buys Estate's Assets

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Edie Adams, widow of comedian Ernie Kovacs, has purchased the main asset of his estate by paying $25,000 cash and assuming $1,949,395 in mortgages.

The deal approved in court Wednesday gave Miss Adams sole title to the California Racquet Club, a 4 1/2 acre property in suburban Palms.

Kovacs' estate was once given a paper value of $2.1 million but claims against it now exceed its present assets, court records showed.

Professional Rug Cleaner Offers Do-It-Yourself

If you like to save money by doing things yourself then rent equipment from us and dryclean your carpeting with the new Host Process. Host is as easy to use as your vacuum cleaner. We supply a lightweight machine and the same efficient dry-cleaning compound as we use.

This new process is world acclaimed. Used and rented by professional rug cleaners from coast to coast. Recommended by carpet manufacturers. It cleans by actually removing dirt. No dust, dangerous fumes, musty odors or shrinkage. Color and texture are revived, matting removed. Rooms can be used instantly.

Since wall-to-wall carpeting can't be rinsed, it should not be shampooed. Suds and foam merely brighten the surface by washing the dirt downward. Phone us for information. GR 4-2206 — Porter's Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co., N. Court St. —adv.

Jr. Fair Talent Contest Tuesday

High on the list of Junior Fair special activities will be the annual Talent contest.

The interesting and entertaining event is scheduled for Tuesday, starting at 8 p. m. It will

His Aerial Happened To Be in Way

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Deputy Sheriff Dave Mount testified that he and Deputy Charlie Whitt arrested a man on a lottery charge only after a wild, mile-long chase. Even had to fire some shots, he said.

"You had to shoot?" asked defense attorney Jack Champlin.

"I didn't," said Deputy Mount, "but Deputy Whitt here did."

"Hummhm," said Champlin, "and what did he shoot?"

"He shot my '38," said Mount, rather evasively.

"I mean did he hit anything?" said Champlin.

Deputies Mount and Whitt exchanged glances, then Mount answered quietly: "Yes."

"Well, what did he hit?" asked the attorney.

"He shot the aerial off my car," said Mount.

"Me, a billion-dollar Cinderella?"

This isn't a fairy tale. Our Cinderella is a modern farmer's wife. Instead of a fairy godmother, she and her neighbors depend upon their own rural electric system for "magic" power.

Now, with countless new electric helpers working to free her from the water-pumping, stove-heating drudgeries of only a few years ago, "Cindy'll live happier ever after!" And so will thousands of other Americans who make the electric appliances that help her dream of a richer, fuller life come true.

For every dollar invested by the locally-owned rural electric system facilities, the people they serve spend four dollars for wiring, appliances, and electrically-powered equipment. In fact, rural electric consumers spend a billion dollars annually for electric appliances alone. And this is only the beginning as they find new ways to use electricity.

This big new market creates business activity and job opportunities across the nation. In the form of wages, payments for goods, and tax revenue, this great new market benefits all Americans. We're proud that a sound rural electrification program, pioneered by nearly 1,000 rural electric systems and financed by Rural Electrification Administration loans, has created this tremendous market.

Old Favorite Merry-Go-Round Is Father of Riding Devices

The Kids Love It

The colorful, musical merry-go-round coming with the Gooding Amusement Co. is always a center of interest at the Pickaway County Fair and represents the latest development in the oldest of all riding devices.

Eye catching and ear snaring, the merry-go-round of today is a far cry from the first model built in 1837 by a German wheelwright who had stumbled onto the idea while cooling the hot rims of wagon wheels.

It was Michael Dentzel's custom to place the rim while hot, on a wheel, then as it cooled, it contracted making a snug fit on the wheel. Then, to keep his children occupied, he built a small bench on top of the axle and placed them in it, figuring they would be both safe and amused as he worked.

The gourd show will be one of were thrilled. So were the neighbor children.

PONDERING this, Dentzel decided to build a ride using the same principal. In 1837 he built the first merry-go-round, a crude affair by the standards of present day, but it proved to be a sensational success.

That first ride was powered by hand, horse power eventually took over but was soon replaced by steam power about the same time the inventor's son G. A. Dentzel, came to this country to build his first merry-go-round in 1867.

Floyd Gooding, owner and general manager of the Gooding Amusement Co., bought his first merry-go-round while still in his teens and started his career in the amusement ride business. Today, The Gooding Company sends 14 of these merry-go-rounds, along with 100 other rides, through 17 states each season.

Gooding has been supplying rides for more than 50 years and is grateful to Dentzel for his imagination and mechanical genius in organizing his idea for one of the most popular of all rides that have been devised in the past century.

Scouts Plan Fair Display

Every Boy Scout and Cub Scout Troop in the county will have the opportunity to plan and exhibit a display at the Fair. All material for the exhibits must be made and prepared by the Scouts themselves and must portray some part of the Boy Scout theme.

A flat fee of $10 will be given to each Boy Scout or Cub Scout Troop that exhibits. Prizes will be: First $7; second, $5; third, $3; fourth, $2 and fifth, $1.

Exhibits will be judged on originality, simplicity in accomplishing theme, amount of preparation, scouts in attendance, neatness and Scout theme.

All exhibits must be in place no later than 6 p. m. Monday, July 30.

Championship Tractor Pull Contest Will Last Two Days at County Fair

The grueling annual grind of men and machines against the stress of time and weight, the Championship Tractor Pulling Contest, has been set for Tuesday and Wednesday during the 1962 Pickaway County Fair.

Starting time on both days has been established at 10 a. m. Frequently the contest lasts into the wee hours of the morning of the next day.

One of the most spectacular events on the fair's card, the test of human and technological resources has held wide spread popular spectator interest for several years.

Directors for the competition are Paul Peck, chairman, Loring Leist, and Wayne Brown. Anyone capable of operating a tractor and qualifying by contest regulations is eligible. Rules of the event are:

ONLY tractors on rubber are eligible. No caterpillar tractor, no four wheel drive tractors or no steel wheeled tractors may be entered. No dual wheels or tire chains will be allowed.

Distance of pull will be 15 feet at one hitching. The start is to be made with a tight chain. Jerking starts are not permitted. Length of chain to be at least three feet and not more than four feet.

Contestants will be given two trials to move any load the given distance. Contestants may choose either end of the weight sled for the second trial providing the boundary permits.

Contestants will be allowed 10 minutes to make repairs in case of breaks.

Only the driver shall be allowed on the tractor while the trial is being made. The driver must stay in the seat. The tractor must be under control at all times.

Two drivers will be allowed for each tractor, but only one at a time.

EACH contestant must hitch to a stationary drawbar. Height of drawbar to be not over 18 inches from the ground. The point of hitch must be in back of the axle.

The clevis will be furnished by the pulling committee.

Axle hitching will not be allowed.

The use of fluid in tires is permitted. All weights added must be regulation manufactured equipment, or its equivalent wheel and frame weights.

Classifications of tractors are: Tuesday, 10 a. m. — Class A, 4,000 pounds, Class B, 6,000 pounds, Class C, 8,000 pounds, double tree pull.

Wednesday, 10 a. m. — Class D, 8,000 pounds, Class E, 11,000 pounds, Class F, 14,000 pounds.

BOUNDARIES will be plainly marked and tractors must stay within those limits while trial is being made. Failure to do so will nullify the trial. The boundary width shall be from 12 to 15 feet.

The judge shall have full power to decide all questions arising in connection with the contest subject to the rules and administration provided. In any event not covered by the rules, the judge shall have full power to decide in a manner that is fairest with the rules.

The judge shall determine the winners and shall award the prizes according to the rules.

Failure to comply promptly with the directions of the judge shall result in immediate disqualification of the contestant.

It is understood that contestants participate at their own risk.

All contestants under 21 years of age shall have written permission from their parents or guardian that the Pickaway County Agricultural Society or committee in charge will not be responsible in case of accident to a contestant.

IN THE opinion of the judge of the tractor pull, when the front wheels have risen to or above 24 inches above the ground surface that pull will be voided.

The five winning tractors with the heaviest driver must weigh out.

There will be a 30 foot boundary on the double tree pull.

A trophy plus $20 will be awarded for first prize. Second position is worth $15, third $10 and fourth spot returns $5.

The event is under the general sponsorship of the Central Ohio Tractor Pulling Club.

Schools Plan To Enter Fair Projects

All schools interested in taking part in the school exhibit at The Pickaway County Fair will have the opportunity this year.

Premiums to be given are: High schools of three or more in number will be given a flat rate, pro-rated equally from the amount allotted the program from the Fair Board. If there are three exhibits, allotment will be $96; 4 exhibits — $108; 5 exhibits — $120, and so on in the same proportion.

If there are less than three exhibits, the allotment will be based on a 3-school-exhibit basis.

For elementary school exhibits, the high school procedure will be followed, except that an allotment will be one-half that of a high school.

Old Favorite Merry-Go-Round Is Father of Riding Devices

The Kids Love It

The colorful, musical merry-go-round coming with the Gooding Amusement Co. is always a center of interest at the Pickaway County Fair and represents the latest development in the oldest of all riding devices.

Eye catching and ear snaring, the merry-go-round of today is a far cry from the first model built in 1837 by a German wheelwright who had stumbled onto the idea while cooling the hot rims of wagon wheels.

It was Michael Dentezel's custom to place the rim while hot, on a wheel, then as it cooled, it contracted making a snug fit on the wheel. Then, to keep his children occupied, he built a small bench on top of the axle and placed them in it, figuring they would be both safe and amused as he worked.

Jr. Fair Beef Showing Event Promises To Be Biggest Ever

The Junior Fair Beef Show this year promises to be the biggest ever as entries roll in to the Junior Fair superintendents.

Judging of the highly competitive show will begin 9 a. m. Thursday with Randall Reed assigned as judge of the event. Junior superintendents are Gene Long and Andrew Duvall.

Superintendents announced that any beef breed is eligible to compete in the steer feeding class. Judging will be done in the following order: Angus, Hereford and Shorthorn. Nurse cows for steers are not permitted.

Classes are: 1. Steers, 1,000 pounds and under; 2. Steers, 1,001 pounds and over; 3. Champion and Reserve Champion Steer.

SPECIAL steer awards and the donor of the trophy in each class are: Beef steers by breed (Angus, Hereford, Shorthorn), cup donated by the Bowling Livestock Co.; Grand Champion Steer, Junior Fair trophy donated by The Circleville Publishing Co.; Reserved Grand Champion Steer, Junior Fair trophy donated by The First National Bank.

Beef breeding will be judged Thursday immediately following the Steer Classes. Order of judging by breeds: Angus, Hereford, and Shorthorn. Classes of competion for Junior Fair beef breeding are: Jr. calf, calved on or after Jan. 1, 1962; Sr. calf, calved Sept. 1, 1961 to Dec. 31, 1961; summer yearling, May 1, 1961 to Aug. 31, 1961; Jr. yearling, Jan. 1, 1961 to April 30, 1961; Sr. yearling, May 1, 1960 to Dec. 31, 1960; beef cow, calved prior to May 1, 1960; champion and reserve champion for each of the three beef breeds, the first and second place of each class show for breed champion and reserve champion.

Special beef breeding awards will be presented by John W. Eshelman Sons; Elisabeth Stevenson; American Shorthorn Breeders' Association; and the Pickaway County Bankers' Association.

The outstanding club group of four beef animals will be selected. Both steers and heifers of at least two breeds must be represented. Quality and arrangement of the group will be considered. One exhibit will be permitted for each club. This class will be judged immediately after the breeding classes. The trophy will be donated by the A&P Tea Company.

Beef Showmanship and Junior Beef Showmanship is limited to members who were less than 14 years of age on Jan. 1, 1962. Previous winners are ineligible. The Pickaway Grain Co. will present the awards in this class.

Senior Beef Showmanship is open to 4-H and FFA members who were 14 years of age or over on Jan. 1, 1961. Previous winners are ineligible. Awards are donated by the Kingston Farmers' Exchange Inc.

EACH contestant must fit and show his own animal in all classes of beef showmanship. The animal which is used in showmanship must be the same one which that boy or girl has shown or will show in a breeding or market class. During the contest the member may be asked by the judge to trade animals with another contestant. In making the awards, fitting will count 50 per cent and showmanship 50 per cent.

Both steers and female animals are permitted in showmanship. The beef showmanship contest will start by animals being brought into the ring wet down, but not curled. Contestants will have 10 minutes in which to curl their own animal for show in the ring.

Beef Cattle Open Show Due To Open Wednesday at Fair

One of the most popular events of the Pickaway County Fair is the Beef Cattle Open Show, slated for Wednesday of Fair week.

Superintendents of the show this year are the same persons who served last year. They include Don Collins, chairman, Wayne Brown, Dr. Wells Wilson and Ralph McDill.

Judging will start at 9 a. m. Wednesday, with Hereford and Angus cattle slated to be judged first. At 1 p. m. the Shorthorns will come to the ring.

All open class entries must have been in or postmarked by July 23, and all livestock must be in place by 6 p. m. Monday. The animals will be released at 4 p. m. Saturday.

ALL CATTLE must be tubercular and bangs tested and they must be recorded in their respective breed association.

Each exhibitor will be limited to two entries in each class. Entry fee of $1 per head must accompany the entry blank. Hay, straw and grain will be available for purchase by the exhibitors.

It should be noted by the exhibitor that where there is no competition in a class second place money will be awarded.

Prize money will be $8 for first; $6 for second; $4 for third and $3 for fourth and fifth.

Ribbons will be awarded to the Champion and Reserve champion bull, and to the Champion and Reserve Champion female.

Classes eligible for judging are: 1. Bulls, 2 years old, calved between May 1, 1959 and Aug. 31, 1960. 2. Senior yearling bull, calved between Sept. 1 and Dec. 31, 1960. 3. Junior Yearling bull, calved between Jan. 1 and April 30, 1961.

Tough Woman

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Airman James Wilhoit of Davis Monthan Air Force Base is convinced women are getting bigger and tougher all the time.

Wilhoit, 43, said he was walking down a Tucson street when three women stepped out of a doorway, dragged him into a room, hit him over the head with a club and took $40 from his wallet.

Then, he told police, they tossed him out in the street.

Geese Cooperate, But Coyotes Don't

BLAIR, Okla. (AP) — Farmer Lawrence LeVick seems to have licked the problem of weeds in his cotton patch.

He turned loose a flock of 200 geese and they ate all the weeds. They don't like the taste of cotton plants. LeVick says the geese — a $300 investment — do the work of nine full-time farm hands.

The only difficulty has been with coyotes which like geese as well as the geese like weeds. Now LeVick keeps a pair of binoculars and a rifle near him. He has an electrically-charged wire eight inches off the ground to keep his flock from wandering off.

Horse Shoe Championships Will Be Determined Aug. 4

Again this year, the annual Pickaway County Championship Horse Shoe Tournament will be conducted as a special feature of the Pickaway County Fair.

Raymond R. Goodman, president of the Pickaway County Horse Shoe Association and general chairman of this year's pitch-off, noted that qualification rounds will be from 6 to 10 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Championship pitch-off competition is slated to start at 5 p. m. Saturday. The matches and qualifiers are open to Pickaway County residents only.

Again this year, as in 1960, A, B, and C competitive divisions have been established for the steel-shoe experts. All tournament play will be held on the lighted courts installed three years ago just east of the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

HORSE shoe pitching is one of the most venerable of individual sports. Though its origins are hazy it is known to have existed as a diversion among 18th-century European nobility.

Goodman emphasized that pitching is a contest of precision and patience rather than power.

Most of Pickaway County's prominent pitchers have taken advantage of fair weather to get in several practice sessions at the Fairgrounds, as well as on private courts.

Class A championship trophy will be donated by Ankrom Lumber Co. The Circleville Oil Co., sponsors the class B first place trophy and L. M. Butch Jewelry will give the championship award in class C.

Second, third and fourth position trophies in all classes are to be donated by Palm's Carry Out, Ward's Market, Wes Edstrom Motor Sales, Glitt's Grocery, Russ's Marathon Station, Blue Ribbon Dairy, Christopher Pontiac, Kocheiser Hardware and Harden Chevrolet.

All players who wish to compete in the championship final rounds in all divisions must first throw in one of the qualifying sessions.

CLAUDE Taylor is defending class A champion. Taylor notched a 427 for the highest score recorded in last year's competition.

Harold Whippel holds the class B title on the strength of a 321 performance in 1961. J. F. Grigsby holds the class C crown. He registered a 210.

Moon Base Prediction

CHATTANOOGA (AP)—A space flight scientist says America has as good a chance "to establish a base on the moon as there was to establish one on the South Pole."

Conrad D. Swanson, assistant chief of advanced flight systems at the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., made the comment to the Chattanooga Engineers Club.

"It may be 30 years," he said, "before we have a permanent base on the moon."

Jaycees, IOOF Finish in Tie For LL Lead

Jaycees scored an easy 10-3 victory over Blue Ribbon Dairy last night.

The win pushed the Jaycee nine into a two-way deadlock with IOOF for first place in League A of the little league minors. Both teams finished with identical 10-3 records, necessitating a playoff game.

The winner will play Second National, League B. Champion, in a best of three series for the championship.

In other minor league action Second National finished its season in fine style with a convincing 12-3 victory over the Savings Bank, First National won its third game, 14-13, over Circleville Oil, and Rotary defeated Ward's Market, 5-3.

MIKE JOHNSON and Gary Garrett paced the Jaycee win. Johnson scored two runs, socked a double and a single and drove in four runs and Garrett hit three singles in four trips to the plate.

Doug Good walked three times, scored two runs and had a double in one official trip to the plate.

Johnson was in excellent control as he struck out 10 and walked none in six innings. He gave up only singles to Marion Long, Dave Dollison and Bernard Delong.

Second National garnered only five hits off Savings hurlers, Mike Rhoades and Dresbach, but took full advantage of 15 bases on balls in scoring its 12 runs.

Jim Mogan, Steve Cassidy, Harry Strawser, and Marvin Timmes each scored two runs. David Mogan hit a double for the only second extra base knock of the game.

Dan Ankrom poled a triple and a double, and Mike Rhoades hit a double and a single for Savings. First National built up a whooping 14-4 margin and then watched its big lead fade as Circleville Oil scored nine big runs in the last of the fifth. The first four men in First's batting order garnered all 11 hits.

LEADOFF batter, Randy Martin, scored four runs and hit three singles, and second batter, Richard Strawser, tallied three runs and socked two singles. Richard Schlegel scored four runs and batted a double and two singles.

Cleanup batter, Dannie Thomas, had a perfect night with a triple, double, and a single in three official trips to the plate. Jenkins hit three singles and Kevin Miller hit a double and scored two runs for the Oilmen.

Richard Walters, David Hopkins, and Gary Dumm paced the Rotary win with two hits each. Wayne Garrison and Dumm did the mound duties for Rotary and limited Ward's to only five hits. Each boy struck out five in three innings. Tom Kohlbeck had two of the Marketmen's hits, two singles.

When redoubtable Carry Back won the Monmouth Handicap it mared his second track record of the season and his second victory in three 1962 races against Kelso.

CLUB SHOTS BY TOM CASSADY

Pickaway Country Club Professional

Ladies at the Pickaway Country Club enjoyed blind partner competition yesterday. Miriam Young and Hester Weldon teamed up for the best ball 35 to win. Erma Hedges was low gross with a 44 and Jan McKelvey had low putts with 13. Edna Timmons copped low net with a 37.

The results of the men's golf league are:

Team 3, 17 points; Team 2, 13 1/2 points; Team 7, 12 1/2 points; Team 8, 10 1/2 points; Team 1, 19 1/2 points; Team 6, 10 points; Team 4, eight points; Team 5, two points.

Club championship deadline is August 5. It is necessary for qualifiers to shoot 18 holes before being eligible for the matches. Interested persons may sign up at the pro shop.

A mixed Poney Tournament is slated for 2:30 p. m. Sunday. Tickets will be on sale at the tee. The pairings and starting times are as follows:

2:30 — Team 1, Bob Moon, 2 and Pat Humphrey, 10; Team 2, Bob Hedges, 8, and Hester Weldon, 10; 2:38 — Team 3, Tom Eveland, 12 and L. Stallings, 13 and Sue Spires, 7; 2:54 — Team 7, Roy Wilson, 10 and Miriam Young, 8; Team 8, Bill Heiskell, 4 and Mary Carpenter, 5; 3:02 — Team 9, George Furrman, 2 and June Furrman, 17; Team 10, Snap Ankrom, 6 and Ruth Anney, 5; 3:10 — Team 11, Dick Clifton, 6 and Helen McGuire, 14; Team 12, Coaries Smith, 11 and Dottie Smith, 13; 3:18 — Team 13, Andy Anderson, 8 and Babs Heckert, 12; Team 14, Ed Hedges, 8, and Stella O'Hara, 10; 3:26 — Team 15, Fisk O'Hara, 7 and Duffy Hedges, 14; Team 16, Rick Spires, 0 and Edna Timmons, 10; 3:34 — Team 17, Ab Leach, 3 and Rita Heiskell, 13; Team 18, Bill Eddy, 6 and Erma Hedges, 6.

College Gridders

Tired of Losing

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Just inside the door to the coaches' office at Hardin-Simmons University hangs this sign: "Winning isn't everything, but it sure beats coming in second."

Hardin-Simmons wouldn't know too much about that, since it hasn't managed to even come in second for more than two years. Not since Nov. 7, 1959, have the Cowboys won a football game.

Theirs has been a trail of woe—22 straight losses and the derisive shouts of both friend and enemy in their ears.

Hardin-Simmons, with a once-famous football heritage that includes national champion runners and passers, will enter the 1962 season with the nation's longest major college losing streak.

Hill Implement Nine Trips Mac's Goodyear

Ankrom Lumber again knotted the Mosquito League lead yesterday with a 9-4 win over the leading Lewis Cook Insurance nine.

Terry Leasure was credited with the winning pitching performance. Paul Garrison was two-for-five for the winners and tallied two runs.

Bill Wilkins paced the losing offense with a triple and two singles.

In other Mosquito league action, Hill Implement edged Mac's Goodyear, 7-6, with a run in the bottom of the sixth after Mike Hamrick had tied the game up for the Goodyear team with a three-run triple in the top of Goodyear team with a three-run triple in the top of the fifth.

THE HILL hardballers tallied four runs in the first to take the lead. They came back in the third with two more.

The losers tallied one in the third, one in the fourth and four in the fifth when Hamrick blasted his bases loaded triple.

Bob Huber paced the winners with two hits and two runs. Gary Large and Dennis Zwayer shared the mound duties for the winners and Randy Sprout was credited with the loss.

Strawser Hurls No-Hitter for Stonerock TV

Harry Strawser hurled the Stonerock TV Softball team into the finals of the winners bracket yesterday in the District 8 softball tourney with a no-hit pitching performance at Chillicothe.

The TV nine downed Portsmouth 3-0, behind Strawser's outstanding effort. He allowed only two base runners when he gave up two walks. He fanned 14.

The Roundtowners opened their scoring in the third when Carl Armstrong reached second on an error. Carl Gulick singled him home.

In the Sixth Carl Gulick singled, Harold Gulick was safe on an error, and then Speeder Davis cracked a single to score Carl. Harold Gulick added the last run on Stillman Morrison's sacrifice fly.

THE LOCAL team goes against old rival River Oil Sunday in the finals of the winners bracket. The victor of that tilt will tangle with the winners of the losers bracket to determine the District 8 championship.

At 7 p. m. Saturday the Stonerock team meets Lima, considered one of the best fast pitch units in the state. The Ohio Fast Pitch league doubleheader is scheduled at Ted Lewis Park.

Gridman and Golfer

S.T. LOUIS (AP) — Sophomore Charley Johnson of the St. Louis football team is a pretty fair golfer. While competing in a sectional round of the National Public Links double eagle on a 458-yard par 5 hole. His drive on the 17th hole at the Big Springs Country Club in Texas traveled 228 yards. His second shot went 230 yards — right into the cup.

Jaycees, IOOF Finish in Tie For LL Lead

Jaycees scored an easy 10-3 victory over Blue Ribbon Dairy last night.

The win pushed the Jaycees nine into a two-way deadlock with IOOF for first place in League A of the little league minors. Both teams finished with identical 10-3 records, necessitating a playoff game.

The winner will play Second National, League B. Champion, in a best of three series for the championship.

In other minor league action Second National finished its season in fine style with a convincing 12-3 victory over the Savings Bank, First National won its third game, 14-13, over Circleville Oil, and Rotary defeated Ward's Market, 5-3.

MIKE JOHNSON and Gary Garrett paced the Jaycees win. Johnson scored two runs, soaked a double and a single and drove in four runs and Garrett hit three singles in four trips to the plate. Doug Good walked three times, scored two runs and had a double in one official trip to the plate. Johnson was in excellent control as he struck out 10 and walked none in six innings. He gave up only singles to Marion Long, Dave Dollison and Bernard Delong.

Second National garnered only five hits off Savings hurlers, Mike Rhoades and Dresbach, but took full advantage of 15 bases on balls in scoring its 12 runs.

Jim Mogan, Steve Cassidy, Harry Strawser, and Marvin Timmes each scored two runs. David Mogan hit a double for the only second extra base knock of the game.

Dan Ankrom poled a triple and a double, and Mike Rhoades hit a double and a single for Savings. First National built up a whooping 14-4 margin and then watched its big lead fade as Circleville Oil scored nine big runs in the last of the fifth. The first four men in First's batting order garnered all 11 hits.

LEADOFF batter, Randy Martin, scored four runs and hit three singles, and second batter, Richard Strawser, tallied three runs and soaked two singles. Richard Schlegler scored four runs and banded a double and two singles.

Cleanup batter, Dannie Thomas, had a perfect night with a triple, double, and a single in three official trips to the plate. Jenkins hit three singles and Kevin Miller hit a double and scored two runs for the Oilmen.

Richard Walters, David Hopkins, and Gary Dumm paced the Rotary win with two hits each. Wayne Garrison and Dumm did the mound duties for Rotary and limited Ward's to only five hits. Each boy struck out five in three innings. Tom Kohlbeck had two of the Marketmen's hits, two singles.

When redoubtable Carry Back won the Monmouth Handicap it mared his second track record of the season and his second victory in three 1962 races against Kelso.

Hillsboro Hires Basketball Coach

James Saunders, a 1958 graduate of Lebanon High School who will graduate from Ohio Northern University in August, has been employed by the Hillsboro board of education as head basketball coach.

Saunders will replace Tom Bryant who recently resigned the head coaching job at Hillsboro to take a similar position at Colerain High School near Cincinnati.

Darn Sharp I Winner Of Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Darn Sharp won the first elimination race in the Class 20 trot in the Scioto Downs Parade of Stars series Thursday night.

He won by a half-length in 2:06 over Golden Touch and returned $6.40. Golden Touch paid $3.80 and Express Mahlon was worth $2.20 for show.

Hill Implement Nine Trips Mac's Goodyear

Ankrom Lumber again knotted the Mosquito League lead yesterday with a 9-4 win over the loop leading Lewis Cook Insurance nine.

Terry Leasure was credited with the winning pitching performance. Paul Garrison was two-for-five for the winners and tallied two runs.

Bill Wilkins paced the losing offense with a triple and two singles.

In other Mosquito league action, Hill Implement edged Mac's Goodyear 7-6, with a run in the bottom of the sixth after Mike Hamrick had tied the game up for the Goodyear team with a three-run triple in the top of Goodyear's fifth.

THE HILL hardballers tallied four runs in the first to take the lead. They came back in the third with two more.

The losers tallied one in the third, one in the fourth and four in the fifth when Hamrick blasted his bases loaded triple.

Bob Huber paced the winners with two hits and two runs.

Gary Large and Dennis Zwyer shared the mound duties for the winners and Randy Sprout was credited with the loss.

College Gridders Tired of Losing

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Just inside the door to the coaches' office at Hardin-Simmons University hangs this sign: "Winning isn't everything, but it sure beats coming in second."

Hardin-Simmons wouldn't know too much about that, since it hasn't managed to even come in second for more than two years. Not since Nov. 7, 1959, have the Cowboys won a football game. Theirs has been a trail of woe—22 straight losses and the derisive shouts of both friend and enemy in their ears.

Hardin-Simmons, with a once-famous football heritage that includes national champion runners and passers, will enter the 1962 season with the nation's longest major college losing streak.

Strawser Hurls No-Hitter for Stonerock TV

Harry Strawser hurred the Stonerock TV Softball team into the finals of the winners bracket yesterday in the District 8 softball tournament with a no-hit pitching performance at Chillicothe.

The TV nine downed Portsmouth 3-0, behind Strawser's outstanding effort. He allowed only two base runners when he gave up two walks. He fanned 14.

The Roundtowners opened their scoring in the third when Carl Armstrong reached second on an error. Carl Gulick singled him home.

In the Sixth Carl Gulick singled, Harold Gulick was safe on an error, and then Speeder Davis cracked a single to score Carl. Harold Gulick added the last run.

Gridman and Golfer

S.T. LOUIS (AP)—Sophomore Charley Johnson of the St. Louis football team is a pretty fair golfer. While competing in a sectional round of the National Public Links double eagle on a 458-yard par 5 hole. His drive on the 17th hole at the Big Springs Country Club in Texas traveled 228 yards. His second shot went 230 yards — right into the cup.

WATSON and Lewis Jordan

teamed up for the verdict with a five-hit pitching effort. Watson was credited with the win. He fanned seven and Jordan fanned three.

The Bankers were given a boost with six unearned runs. They collected a total of 10 hits off the losing pitcher.

Governor Due Here Saturday

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle will meet with local Democrats at 8 a. m. tomorrow morning for a breakfast session at the Mecca Restaurant.

Local Democrats are invited to attend the breakfast meeting, scheduled as part of the governor's campaign for the November election.

It is expected that Gov. DiSalle will present another in his series of questions for State Auditor James Rhodes, the GOP gubernatorial candidate.

Taft Deplores Increase In Federal Payroll

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—State Rep. Robert Taft Jr., campaigning for Ohio's Congress-at-large post, has criticized what he calls steady increase in numbers of government jobholders. He told the Hamilton Young Republican Club Thursday night that nine million of the 67 million American workers are in some government service and the 1963 federal budget proposes adding 121,000 more.

German Measles Virus Isolated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Identification of the virus that causes German measles was announced Thursday by the U.S. Public Health Service, raising hopes for development of an immunization program.

The new virus was isolated by Drs. John L. Sever and Gilbert M. Schiff, scientists connected with a collaborative project of the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness.

They tested five groups of military recruits and children infected with rubella, commonly called German measles, in different geographical areas and isolated the new virus from 82 per cent of the patients. When cultivated and administered to volunteers, the virus was found to cause rubella.

Accused Extortionist Surrenders To Police

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police say Jerry Finn, 24, of Covington, Ky., sought for questioning in an attempt to extort $20,000 from a Roman Catholic priest, has surrendered to Covington officers but refused to waive extradition. William E. Burke, 27, of Elsmere, Ky., surrendered Wednesday in the case.

16 Contestants To Compete for King and Queen

A top field of 40 finalists have been selected to vie for the 1962 Pickaway County Fair King and Queen throne.

Good looks will abound when eight boys and eight girls gather at 8 p. m. Tuesday in front of the Grandstand for close viewing by a panel of judges. The royal selection will be conducted along with the Fair's annual talent contest.

The finalists were selected several days ago by the Jr. Fair King and Queen committee. Each youth organization in the county was eligible to enter one boy and one girl member.

The finalist competition included 27 girls and 13 boys. The field was narrowed to 16 following some close judging by the Jr. Fair committee.

THE NEW King and Queen will succeed David McDonald of Circleville and Carol Torchick of Logan Elm, last year's gracious young rulers of the Fair.

King candidates are Jerry Pat-

Chute Club Plans Jumps

The Circleville Sport Parachute Club has scheduled another round of jumps Sunday afternoon.

The airborne capers will be conducted at the club's new drop zone at the Richard Stuckey farm on the Kingston Pike. Jumps will start at 2 p. m.

Spectators are welcome to view the afternoon performance. The Stuckey property is the first farm on the right after leaving Circleville.

According to club official Andrew Starkey, about 15 members are scheduled to take part. The new drop zone will be a permanent location for the jumpers, he said.

The parachute specialists are scheduled to jump each evening during the County Fair, weather permitting.
